I Will Not Be Ignored (HumorOutcasts Press) combines fiction, non-fiction and opinion to create a humorous take on three aspects of the author Ed Friedman's thinking: his outlook on the proliferation of "current wisdom" so plentiful in the internet age; his imaginings, providing multiple answers to different versions of "what if?", and his personal experience in navigating his own shortcomings, failures and fears.

Friedman is a playwright and humorist. His short plays have been staged throughout the New York metropolitan area and around the country. His anthology, Short Plays for Long Lives, is published by Blue Moon Publishing. His play, "The Keys to Life," has been adapted for the screen into a film of the same title by the Northern Virginia Film Co-op.

His humorous essays and fiction have appeared in numerous publications and online sites, including The New Croton Review and Slackjaw.
