OUR MISSION

The University of Dayton Libraries engage in collaborative partnerships to provide excellent research and scholarly collections, quality service, integrated curricular support, and dynamic learning environments—all vital to the mission of a Catholic and Marianist University.

OUR VISION

As the principal intellectual information center of the University of Dayton, the Libraries are increasingly valued as a strategic and vital asset of the University, prized by their own academic community, and important to the worldwide scholarly community.

---

TO ACHIEVE THIS VISION

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES:

- Provide responsive and innovative service to facilitate research, inquiry, exploration, and reflection.
- Build collections, both physical and electronic, that serve the diverse needs of our academic community, other researchers, and visitors.
- Develop and preserve unique library and archival collections on the Virgin Mary, the U.S. Catholic experience, and the University of Dayton that enrich the curriculum and are easily accessible.
- Use technology to provide seamless and reliable access to electronic and physical resources and to support learning and teaching.
- Hire and retain a diverse, well-prepared, and dedicated faculty and staff, valued for their contribution to collaborative learning and curricular support and distinguished by their enthusiasm, commitment to excellent service, innovation, and professional development.
- Cultivate effective relationships with administrators, faculty, staff, and students.
- Foster collaboration and build partnerships on campus and beyond.
- Engage in the process of Marianist education by providing instruction and expert assistance for research, participating in curricular planning, and developing lifelong learners.
- Contribute actively to campus-wide initiatives and activities through direct participation and broad support.
- Respect the diversity of people and viewpoints in the spirit of the Marianist charism.
- Create and maintain a physical environment that is welcoming, comfortable, well equipped, that meets the needs of varied learning styles, and is conducive to scholarship and cultural enrichment.

RESEARCH HELP

UD librarians provide one-on-one research assistance at the Research Help desk located in the first floor Reference Room. You can also ask for research assistance the following ways:
- Email: ref@udayton.edu
- Text: (937) 369-0LIB (369-0542)
- Google Chat: udaytonlib
- Phone: (937) 229-4270

CATALOG

Easily accessible at flyers.udayton.edu, you can search by title, author, keyword, or subject heading. If a book is unavailable, search the OhioLINK catalog.

OhioLINK

University of Dayton is part of OhioLINK, the statewide library consortium. You may request books that are not available at UD from the OhioLINK catalog at ohiolink.edu. Materials usually arrive within 3-4 business days.

DATABASES

Search databases for articles in journals (scholarly, popular, and trade) and in newspapers. Click Find It! to see if full text is available.

COURSE RESERVES

Course readings can be accessed online at isidore.udayton.edu. Use your username and password to login. On the homepage, click the E-Reserve Tab. Within the E-Reserve Resources folder, there should be folders corresponding to your current class schedule. Open the folder needed and click on a file to view the document. Books, videos, DVDs, and CDs placed on reserve by course instructors can be requested and checked out at the circulation desk.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN

Requests for articles and books not available through OhioLINK can be made online through ILLiad. Users are notified via email when their loan requests have arrived. Many articles are delivered electronically as PDFs. Create and access your ILLiad account at udayton.illiad.oclc.org/illiad/logon.html.
LIBRARIES & COLLECTIONS

University Libraries includes Roesch Library, the Marian Library/International Marian Research Institute (IMRI), and University Archives and Special Collections. Roesch Library, both the name of the building and of the library, is named for Father Raymond Roesch, S.M., President of UD from 1959-1979. Roesch Library serves University students, faculty, and staff.

ROESCH LIBRARY

The library houses more than 1.3 million volumes and subscribes to more than 8,400 print and electronic journals. Kindles are also available for check out. As a partner in OhioLINK, the University of Dayton Libraries share resources with 84 state and private academic and research universities around the state. In addition to scholarly materials, the library offers a leisure reading collection and a Science Fiction and Fantasy Writers of America (SFWA) collection.

UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES

Established in 1973 to preserve the University’s history, University Archives chronicles the University’s development into a national Catholic and Marianist Institution of higher learning. Located on the second floor of Albert Emanuel Hall, the collection includes University records and publications, faculty and alumni papers, student theses and dissertations, photographs, memorabilia, and audiovisual recordings.

THE MARIAN LIBRARY/INTERNATIONAL MARIAN RESEARCH INSTITUTE (IMRI)

Considered one of the world’s largest collections of materials related to the Virgin Mary, the Marian Library’s goal is to gather and present information about Mary and to lead people to a loving knowledge of her. All are welcome to visit the Marian Library, especially its ongoing exhibits of Marian art and the Creche Room. The Marian Library/International Marian Research Institute (IMRI) is an academic pontifical program that enables students to prepare for the licentiate of sacred theology (S.T.L.) and the doctorate of sacred theology (S.T.D.) with specialization in Mariology. In partnership with the Department of Religious Studies, students can earn a master’s degree in theology with a specialization in Mariology.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Special collections in the University Libraries are housed with the Rare Books department and the University Archives. The eclectic Rare Book Collection includes manuscripts and early and limited edition books. A growing U.S. Catholic Collection documents the American Catholic experience. Additional special collections highlight sports, the arts, politics, and the pursuits of UD alumni. These collections contain rare prints, drawings, maps, photographs, art objects, and audiovisual recordings.

DIGITAL@UDAYTON

Collections that have been digitized are available online at digital.udayton.edu. This image repository features art images, historic photographs, and yearbooks. The View360 feature (available for select collections) enables users to rotate 3D objects virtually. This provides the ability to examine an object from all angles. Every item has been organized and assigned subject headings for easy browsing and searching. Faculty members are encouraged to incorporate Digital@UDayton in their classrooms.

LOCATIONS

STUDY AREAS
The Group FlexSpace in the first floor reference room features mobile furniture that adapts to group study or work needs. For a quiet workspace, visit the sixth floor. The fourth and fifth floors typically have moderate noise levels. Individual or group study rooms are available on a first come, first served basis. Check availability at the Circulation Desk.

MEDIA TERRACE
The Media Terrace on the second floor is another space designed specifically for group work. Each of its computer workstations feature double monitors on movable arms at table with ample space to accommodate groups. Check out cameras and other media equipment at the Circulation Desk.

LOST & FOUND
The library advises all students to not leave belongings unattended in the library. Inquire about lost items at the Circulation Desk in the first floor lobby.

THE WRITE PLACE
Located on the 2nd floor, the Write Place offers a comfortable, collaborative environment to improve writing competency across the curriculum. Trained undergraduate tutors offer assistance in overcoming problems at any stage of the writing process. No appointment is necessary.

THE RYAN C. HARRIS LEARNING TEACHING CENTER (LTC)
The LTC consists of Student Learning Support (SLS); Faculty and Leadership Development; Curriculum Innovation and e-Learning; Writing, Research, and New Media; and the Media Arcade. Located on the ground floor of Koesch Library, the LTC also has individual and group study areas and The Blend, a student-run coffee and smoothie shop.

PRINTING & COPYING

PRINTING
A charge of four cents per page is deducted from Flyer Express when printing in the library. Faculty and staff are not charged to print, but they must follow the same process.
1. Send document to the printer as usual.
2. Click the small printer icon next to the Windows START button (or go to printrelease.udayton.edu).
3. Log in to Print Release using your username and password.
4. Check the box beside the document name and then click Print.
Directions for printing from laptops are on the Libraries’ website.
Color printing is not available in the library. Please visit the Campus Copy Center to print or copy in color.

COPYING
Copiers are in the lobby, the first floor reference room, and on the second floor. Copies are 5 cents per page.
BORROWING & RENEWING

BORROWING
Use your University of Dayton ID card to check out library materials. Loan periods are different for undergraduates, graduate students, and faculty/staff. For a detailed list of loan periods visit udayton.edu/libraries/circ.

 Reserve materials circulate for 1-4 hours; 1-3 days; or 1-3 weeks as determined by the professor. Reserve items may not be renewed or placed on hold. Inquire about reserve materials at the circulation desk.

Leisure Reading materials circulate to everyone for 21 days with up to 4 renewals.
Kindles circulate for 14 days with no renewals.

RENEWING
Renew your materials online by logging in to your library account on flyers.udayton.edu. You can also call (937) 229-4234 and ask the circulation staff to renew your materials. Have your ID ready. Materials may not be renewed if another person has requested the item.

FINES
Patrons with fines of $10 or more will not be able to check out books or register for classes. Overdue OhioLINK materials returned in excess of thirty days will be assessed an additional $50 for each overdue item.

Kindle $10 per day
UD audiovisual 50 cents per day per item
OhioLINK 50 cents per day per item
Interlibrary Loan $1.00 per day per item
Reserve items 50 cents per hour

INFORMATION FOR VISITORS

Roesch Library welcomes visitors with educational and research needs not being met in a neighborhood library. While our collections and services are staffed and funded to serve the scholarly needs of the University of Dayton faculty, students, and staff, we strive to provide reasonable access to the collections, computers, and facilities for all users. UD students, staff, and faculty have priority for all services and computers. Behavior of groups or individuals which disrupts or obstructs the library-related work and activities of the University community is prohibited.

- Visitors not currently affiliated with the University of Dayton (those without a valid username and password) are limited to designated work stations in the first floor reference room.
- Printing is available from these computers. Ten cents per page will be charged to the user at the circulation desk.
- Access to databases and e-resources from outside the library is not available to visitors due to licensing agreements.
- Visitors who are 18 years or older may purchase a library card for $50.00 annually. Cards are purchased at the 1st floor circulation desk. Photo identification must be presented at time of purchase.
SERVICES FOR FACULTY

RESEARCH SESSIONS
Librarians will meet with your class to conduct hands-on research sessions in the navigation and use of library resources. These sessions are customized to support class assignments or course research needs. Request a session for your class at http://udayton.edu/libraries/instruction_sessions_request.php.

ONLINE TUTORIAL
"Research Blueprint" is a 3-part library tutorial and quiz delivered via Isidore and designed for first-year students in the English Composition program. The modules present basic research sources and tools, stressing the ethical uses of information. If you are interested in providing a refresher course on library research through an Isidore class, call (937) 229-4259.

RESOURCE GUIDES
Online Resource Guides are one-stop research portals to quality resources. Created through a collaborative effort between librarian and instructor, Resource Guides can be tailored to include discipline- and course-specific resources. For examples and instructions on requesting a Resource Guide visit http://libguides.udayton.edu/rg101.

COURSE RESERVES
Hard copy materials can include library books, personal books, DVDs, etc. and can be checked out for varied amounts of time at the Circulation Desk. For photocopies, articles, sample exams, etc., the preferred method is electronic access via Isidore. In compliance with copyright law, the library can only scan or digitize limited amounts of published print materials. More details are available at udayton.edu/libraries/reserves.

ROESCH2U
The library will deliver circulating books, journals, articles, OhioLINK materials, and items received via interlibrary loan to departmental offices. Deliveries will be made on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons when the university is open. Click on the Roesch2U icon in any catalog record to submit a request.

REQUESTING MATERIALS FOR PURCHASE
Subject Liaisons select books, journals, databases, and other materials for their disciplines. Contact your liaison about library materials or research assistance. See page 19 to find the subject liaison for your area.
HOURS
Hours vary during the first few weeks of each semester, during semester breaks, and on holidays. The library is open 24/7 beginning the Sunday before the last week of classes thru the end of finals week. Call (937) 229-4421 for current hours or visit udayton.edu/libraries/hours.php.
Special arrangements can be made for after-hours research.

THE COMMON GOOD
"The common good" is one of the Standards of Behavior at University of Dayton. The common good is "the sum total of social conditions which allow people, either as groups or individuals, to reach their fulfillment more fully and more easily." Students are expected to self-enforce the agreed upon noise levels in the various study spaces. Please respect those around you in the library.

EMPLOYMENT
To view all current job postings, please visit UD's Employment Opportunities website. Job categories include faculty, staff, student, and temporary positions. View the job postings and apply online at jobs.udayton.edu.
