So What’s an UGGM?

UGGM is shorthand for Undergraduate Music Minister. UGGM’s are rising Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors who are trained to choose and lead the music for the various masses on Campus: in the Immaculate Conception Chapel, the residence halls, and the McGinnis Center. They also provide music for large campus liturgies (NSO Welcome Mass, Family Weekend Mass, December 8th and the winter and spring Baccalaureate masses as well as special liturgies throughout the year.) Beyond campus, the UGMM’s have the opportunity to minister to the wider church through participation in Archdiocesan events and prison ministry at the Lebanon Correctional Facility.

New students accepted into our program take a mini-course, Liturgy for Pastoral Musicians their first semester in the program and thereafter newbies and veterans alike take additional mini-courses of a more hands on nature. This semester’s Practicum course includes sessions on accompanying the assembly, peer reviews of liturgical music and more.

UGMM’s are more than talented volunteers. They receive stipends for their work. Some go on to a career in music ministry. If you are a singer or musician and desire to explore your faith more deeply through music leadership for the 2012-2013 academic year, applications and more information are available from Jim Pera at 229-2052, or James.Pera@udayton.edu, Liberty Hall, Rm. 210 and also from the Campus Ministry Main Office.

A local charity which serves the poor in the Dayton area will receive 10% of every Sunday collection. The rest of the collection supports more than 100 Campus Ministry programs of all kinds, including our Service Programs of the Week: Dakota Center and Solidarity

Student tutors serve the Dakota Center Homework Club with homework assistance and playful mentoring. They reinforce positive behavior with a Dakota dollar reward system and monthly themed parties.

Solidarity is a service club aimed at mentoring young women at a local Dayton junior high school. The UD members plan for and meet with the girls twice a month to discuss modern women’s issues while also facilitating an open, trusting community with members that support one another. Their goal is to bring support to the young women as they face the challenges of growing up as a girl today.
