Protestant students attending the University of Dayton can find themselves struggling to find, form and fit into communities of faith within the larger fabric of the Catholic university. UD's Campus Ministry has at its heart the desire to be present with all students and to help nurture the spiritual needs of students from various Protestant backgrounds.

UD Interdenominational Ministry (UDIM) is just the place to cultivate your faith in community. We share the Gospel on campus weekly in a multitude of ways, including weekly worship service (Sundays at 6 PM) and Bible study (Thursdays at 8 PM) in the Marianist Hall Chapel.

We tag our ministry, "A Faith that Fits" and trust that students will come share in cultivating the community with us and give UDIM a chance to nurture their need/desire for discipleship, evangelism, fellowship, ministry and worship.

If you are looking for a place to plug in your faith life (no matter its shape) and you are ready to be challenged to hear God's voice in your everyday life, then UDIM is the community for you. If you wonder exactly where you fit in with faith but know you want to fit, UDIM is still the community for you. Won't you come grow with us? UDIM's Motto: "Decisionally Different Consciously Community We Are Protestant!"
