

A TRIPLE PANDEMIC? THE IMPACTS OF COVID-19
DISPROPORTIONATELY AFFECT
BLACK AND HISPANIC HOUSEHOLDS

“I’m just as likely to die from a cop
as I am from Covid,” he said.

64 LYNCHINGS IN 1918
83 LYNCHINGS IN 1919

What does the Red Summer signify about the events of 2020?

As bloody as that summer was, it failed to result in any protections for African Americans, and if anything, Ward said, “that reign of racial terror, where again the exculpatory work of the white press, police, grand juries and others ensured that perpetrators were protected rather than punished, undoubtedly prolonged the period of American apartheid.”

During the 1918 influenza pandemic in the US: The black population had lower morbidity and mortality than the white population.