MONDAY, NOV. 13: UD STUDENTS "RAISE THE ROOF" FOR HOUSE-BUILDING
DURING HUNGER AWARENESS WEEK ON CAMPUS

"Raising the Roof, Raising the Hope for the Hungry in Tijuana" is the theme of the University of Dayton's Hunger Awareness Week to be held Nov. 11-17. During the course of the week, organizers hope to raise $10,500. They will take supplies to Tijuana themselves during the UD Spring Break-Out, March 10-17.

"Our goal is to raise money to build several houses in Tijuana, and in the process to educate the UD community about hunger needs around the world," said sophomore student Kathleen Winter, public relations representative for the group.

Events include:

Monday, Nov. 13 8 p.m. (changed from 7:30 p.m.)

A panel of UD students will discuss their experiences with poverty while serving in Tijuana on a Spring Break-Out service trip last year. The discussion will be held in Sears Recital Hall in the Jesse Philips Humanities Center.
