Just add sunshine

Warmer and brighter weather on campus yesterday brought students out in droves on Stuart Field to jog, play football, or toss a Frisbee. There was also juggling. Here, William "Wally" Price, first year mechanical engineering technology major from North Ridgeville, Ohio juggles with a diabolo. It's like a yo-yo, but is not tied to the string. When spinning it balances on the string. William says diabolos are popular in China, and he has been juggling since 6th grade.
