MARIAN LIBRARY STUDIES

NEW SERIES

MARIAN LIBRARY STUDIES, founded in 1953, began its New Series in 1969. It is an annual for the publication, in the principal research languages, of scholarly articles fostering the renewal and development of Marian studies by integrating them with other spheres of research:

Critical editions of texts

Historical bibliography

Historical research and its documentation: studies, chronicles, miscellanea

Comparative studies in religion, theology, spirituality, archeology, iconography, symbolism, religious anthropology, psychology...

On occasion, one or more numbers will be given over entirely to the publication of some special extensive study. This issue and the one preceding it, for example, were reserved for the work of Roberto Caro, S.J., on the Byzantine homilies of the fifth century.
