

3-22-2018

Mystery pictograph

Larry Burgess
University of Dayton

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/dayton_mag_blog

eCommons Citation

Burgess, Larry, "Mystery pictograph" (2018). University of Dayton Magazine Blog. 43.
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/dayton_mag_blog/43

This Blog is brought to you for free and open access by the Marketing and Communications at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Dayton Magazine Blog by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact mschlengen1@udayton.edu, ecommons@udayton.edu.

Mystery pictograph

 udayton.edu/magazine/2018/03/mystery-pictograph.php

Larry Burgess • March 22, 2018

Approximately three millennia ago, written communication was done with pictographs. This pictograph in snow, was found on top of a shrub in Kennedy Union Plaza. Experts may debate the intended meaning, but to a layman, it could be: “Hey, let’s get a burger or pizza”. Thus observed by the round shape in the figure’s left hand. The other hand is open and empty, indicating a willingness to share.

