Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Dear Alumnus:

It hardly seems possible that we have so quickly reached the time for saying, “Merry Christmas!”

It seems but a matter of a few days that we were discussing registration, the beautiful autumn foliage and prospects for the football season. But that is the way time flies on this busy campus.

The autumn season was good to us in many ways. It opened with a large enrollment. Academic curriculum was seriously undertaken and scholarship was uniformly high. Autumn subsequently saw fit to provide us with a highly successful football season.

There were sad notes. Saddest of all was when death struck our faculty and removed one of our best loved instructors, Dr. Rappel.

But as the holidays approach we feel that we have every reason to rejoice with what the year has given us and so we ask you to join with us in that ageless expression, “A Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year to you All.”

To you who have the desire and the wherewithal, may we suggest that you express your gratitude in the form of a cash payment to the Alumni Association fund. This is the one most convincing evidence of your interest in your University’s continued progress. Doesn’t it sound sensible? A Christmas present to your University!

The names of all paid up members of 1940 will be carried in the next issue of the Alumnus. Of course you’ll want to see your name in this listing—the “Who’s Who of the University of Dayton Alumni Association.”

The next general function of the Association will be that happy Friday night, December 27, when every son and daughter of Dayton will unite in spirit before radio loud speakers the country over to hear Fred Waring’s coast-to-coast salute to the school we love so well, our own University of Dayton.

R.C. Brown
Coming as welcome news to his host of friends is word from the southland to the effect that Lou Tschudi is in Florida, convalescing nicely from his recent serious nervous disorder. In company with Mrs. Tschudi, Lou is covering the state in leisurely fashion in a trailer.

TAKES NEW POST

LOU TSCHUDI

Lou’s illness, bordering a nervous collapse, came with startling suddenness just a few days after he had tendered his resignation as freshman coach and head of the department of physical education to take a post as sport editor of radio station WING, Dayton. He had made just four appearances on his sponsored sport broadcast when he was stricken.

University authorities have announced that there will be no additions to the athletic staff until September, 1941, at which time a freshman coach and scout will be named in addition to a physical education instructor.

FRED WARING SHOW TO FEATURE
NEW U. D. ANTHEM DECEMBER 27

In answer to a request, signed by almost every student, that he write a new anthem for the University, Fred Waring has telegraphed the student body that his program of Friday, December 27, will be dedicated to the University of Dayton.

Fred Waring’s Pennsylvanians, playing for Chesterfield “Pleasure Time” feature “College Smoker Night” on Friday nights over a coast-to-coast NBC hook-up. This program is rated by the Crosley poll as America’s most popular fifteen-minute program and is known as “The Shortest Fifteen Minutes in Radio.”

The program is scheduled for 7 p.m. E. S. T. Alumni and friends are urged to consult their local radio logs for station and time. New York alumni are working with Mr. Waring in the development of the program at Radio City and in the actual writing of the song.

New York students, home for the holidays, will join alumni as the guests of Mr. Waring in Radio City the night of the broadcast. A campus party is being arranged for those who will remain on the campus over the holidays.

Hilltop Happenings

U. D. DEBATERS START ACTIVITIES—The Upsilon Delta Sigma debate society has started annual scrimmages to determine the outstanding three teams which will make jaunts to the far sections of the country in intercollegiate debates. The trips will extend to New York and Washington, Florida and northern Michigan. Illinois Wesleyan University provided first competition of the year in a dual debate held in Dayton, December 7. Dr. Arthur M. Harding, professor of astronomy at the University of Arkansas, addressed the student body with a lecture entitled “Sky Tours”. A former member of the Dilling gang gave the sociology students an inside view of prison life when he spoke at one of the classes recently. The evening and Saturday morning students, over 500 in number, held a mixer for the first time in the school’s history the past month.

FIRE!—Smoking oil on steam pipes leading from St. Mary’s hall to the gymnasium sent a corps of firemen to put out the “blaze” the past month. Three of the advanced controlled private flying course students successfully completed the course by passing their restricted commercial test. Henry Rechtien ’42 and Dwight Schrum and Andrew Anders of Ohio University were the only ones to finish out of the original ten. Professor Maurice R. Reichard, director of the department of music, spoke on “Higher Education in Dayton” before the Dayton College Women’s club. Miss Carrie McKnight, registrar of Muskingum college, was elected president of the Ohio College Registrars’ association at the conclusion of the two day annual convention of the association which was held on the Dayton campus. Rev. George J. Renneker, dean and registrar of U. D., was made vice-president, while Lawrence C. Underwood, of Hiram college, is secretary-treasurer.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS—Five members of the U. D. chapter of International Relations clubs attended the regional convention of the organization at Murray State Teachers College, Murray, Ky. . . . Mary Rose Sullivan ’43 is following the footsteps of Sue Martin ’42. Sue was the first girl in U. D. ever to register in the engineering college. Mary followed suit and is taking chemical engineering while Sue is in the mechanical engineering department, but still dislikes power plants because “they’re too dirty.” Sue was the first coed to learn to fly and now Mary is following Sue’s suit again. Mary soloed the past month . . . The Pershing Rifles, national society of basic R. O. T. C. students,

WIN 6, LOSE 3

Taking off from where we landed the last issue the Flyers added four wins and a single setback to their record for the season. This makes six wins and three losses for the season, which began with two straight losses. You just can’t beat this record for recovery!

Since the last Alumnius, U. D. trounced Cincinnati, Transylvania, Xavier, dropped one to Ohio U., and recovered to annihilate Ohio Wesleyan. Previously the Hilltoppers dropped contests to Wichita, Marshall and defeated Western Reserve and Miami. Incidentally this was Reserve’s only loss and the Red Cats go to the Sun Bowl as a result of this record.

CINCY FALLS

The Flyers made it 10 wins out of 11 tries over the Cincinnati University Bearcats when they defeated the Queen City outfit on their home grounds, 7-0. Both offenses were checked and the game turned into a defensive contest. However, the Flyers connected for two straight passes which spelled the defeat of the Bearcats. The first of the two consisted of Paluzzi, on the Dayton 35, faking a punt on a third down and then passing to Westendorf, who slid away from several tacklers to the U. C. 27. A pass from Joe Quinn to Beno Keiter found pay dirt and Humm converted. The best Cincy could do was to advance the ball to the Dayton 24 in the second quarter.

Next game on the schedule was both a theoretical and a practical breather. The Flyers walked all over Transylvania College of Lexington, Ky., 26-0, with mostly substitutes performing for Harry Baujan. The Pioneers of Kentucky were undefeated before this fray, but touchdowns by Wynn, Moran, Pangallo, and Kinski put an end to this record.

HOMECOMING GAME

Climax of Homecoming activities was a brilliant 13-0 victory over Dayton’s age-old rivals, the Xavier University Musketeers. The Flyers played heads-up football the whole way and held off every Musketeer scoring threat. The statistics for the game were practically even in every department, but it was the cool determination of the Flyers that was responsible for the win. The second time the Hilltoppers took over the ball in the game they scored as a result of a 53-yard march in eight plays. Moran scored on a fake pass and Keiter’s kick was wide. In the second quarter the Flyers sewed up the ball game when Paluzzi passed to Scott Snyder for a touchdown, but the Flyer line played brilliantly and held.

The Baujanites met Ohio U. the following Saturday with five straight wins under their belts and feeling generally confident. But as everyone knows Don Peden’s little Green Jinx is noted for surprises. Unfortunately Dayton was selected as Peden’s victim for this season. The Bobcats stifled the Flyer attack and scored when Moran’s blocked kick bounded into the end zone and was reclaimed by Danny Risaliti, Bobcat quarterback. Snyder converted, and this first quarter touchdown was too much of a shock for the Flyers to make up, so the score board read 7-0 at the end of the contest.

WESLEYAN SMOTHERED

Thanksgiving day found 13 seniors windup ing their college football careers by romping over Ohio Wesleyan, 27-0. This victory was very convincing to Flyer fans, who remembered that the best Ohio U. could do against Wesleyan was to gain a scoreless tie. The Red and Blue outplayed seven sophomores have reported to Head Coach Jim Carter. This is Carter’s second year as basketball coach and the players should be more accustomed to his system. The their opponents in every department of the game by gaining 12 first downs to the Bishops’ 3; 346 yards from scrimmage to 89 for Wesleyan and 236 yards rushing to 13 for the Bishops.

That’s the story of a grid season that wasn’t supposed to be so good from pre-season dope, but which ended up as one of the finest. When the final count was made it was found that the coaches had produced a team good enough to win six, lose three, and score 133 points to the opponents 59.

THE BIG DAY!

Saturday morning saw an unprecedented registration in the Alumni office and many and varied were the comments as the "old boys" examined the more than two hundred old photographs which were on display.

The record breaking character of the 1940 Homecoming continued as nearly 150 persons turned out for the luncheon in the dining hall. This figure more than doubled the 1939 luncheon.

The early arrivals on Friday night witnessed a bang-up pigskin foray between Marshall's Big Green yearlings and the Dayton frosh. The melee wound up all even at 13 points with the local eleven looking considerably the stronger.

Class of '34 started things rolling in the reunion line that same night and many impromptu get togethers were reported in the downtown sec-

Father Elbert paid tribute to the team and coaches and finally to the game of football itself. Harry Buanjan awarded monograms and announced the selection of the honorary captain for the year as well as the most valuable player.

Flyer team to a glorious victory over Xavier's Musketeers in the seventeenth renewal of the rivalry. The series is even now with eight victories for each team and one tie. A colorful between-the-halves ceremony, produced by the campus spirit committee, added zest to the affair.

The Moots' Party
What was generally acceded to be the biggest surprise of the day was the after-the-game party staged by the Moots (Chicago Alumni Chapter) in the Chaminade hall clubroom. It was a gala gathering and one that reluctantly disbanded in time for the dance at the Miami hotel. The undying gratitude of every person at the party goes to the Moos and their president, John Ladner, for this wonderful affair.

Reunions
Saturday evening witnessed reunions of the classes of '22, '35 and '37.

The class of '22 held its annual Homecoming party at the Brooks Club on West First Street, 1935 met at the "Double L" cafe on North Main street and 1937 staged a dinner at Suttmiller's on Great Miami Boulevard.

Another record breaking crowd of approximately 850 persons thronged the Empire Ballroom and mezzanine at the Miami hotel Saturday night. Private parties formed an adjunct to the evening's festivities.

Among those present at the Homecoming luncheon in the University dining hall and who figured strongly in the day's events were C. Edward Merkle, former student of the "seventies," Dayton, oldest alumnus present; Miss Eileen Fiel, president of the Alumnae chapter; Father Elbert and Judge William H. Wolff, president of the Alumni Association.

LIMA
An important meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, December 10, at which time plans for a dance were to be discussed.

MIAMI VALLEY ALUMNAE CHAPTER
An "on the campus" party was held December 4 in the Chaminade hall clubroom attended by a large group of former women students. The evening's entertainment included a screen of movies of the Miami, Cincinnati, Xavier and Ohio Wesleyan foot ball games were shown.

Appointed by President Tod Makley to the chairmanship of the annual testimonial dinner honoring the football team, was James J. Hartnett, assisted by Jack Ledger, Merlie P. Smith, Robert M. Payne, J. Ellis Mayl, Elmer Will and Eugene Mayl.

U. D. NEWS DEMANDS CONFERENCE

(An Editorial)

By Henry Rechtien, '42

Sport Editor, U. D. News; Ass't. Editor, Alumnus

The University of Dayton Flyers must have an athletic conference. If this school is ever to assume a prominent position in inter-collegiate athletics a new conference composed of teams of Dayton’s caliber, or even a little better, must be formed at once. The importance of this step is so great in the eyes of the U.D. News sports staff that we take this opportunity to bring this matter to the attention of the athletic director, the athletic board, the students and the newspapers of Dayton.

We suggest a conference of the following teams: Dayton, Xavier, Cincinnati, Marshall, Akron, Western Reserve, Toledo and Butler. In the event that any of the above schools are later found not to be satisfactory, other good possibilities are: Miami, Ohio U., Ohio Wesleyan, Carnegie Tech, Case, Youngstown, Detroit, John Carrol and Baldwin Wallace. All of the above schools are within easy travelling distance and would provide colorful competition. Students and fans could easily follow their team to out of town games and close connections would be made among the student bodies of the various schools. The majority of the mentioned possibilities are in good football districts, and it is no doubt that the conference would be profitable.

None will deny that nothing ever did more for University of Dayton football than the Buckeye conference did in four short years. The Buckeye didn’t contain a roster of teams as strong as those that could now be brought into a new conference, and still the little Buckeye created enough interest to gain the attention of a national sports writer who termed it, “The toughest little conference in the country.”

A conference builds interest. The teams in it are playing for something; they have the chance to be champions and each game counts. Scheduling a few big time opponents each year won’t make up even half of the publicity the Flyers lost when the Buckeye dissolved. Dayton and other outstanding teams were forced to play second fiddle to third class Ohio conference ball clubs in state wide press releases the past season. This fact illustrates the publicity value of a conference.

In the days of the Buckeye the stadium was packed for every contest. The past season was a decided success in the won and lost column, but it was not much of a success in the cash register total. We might as well be practical about this thing and admit that a conference will improve gate receipts. Call it commercializing football, if you will, but increased football income will make it possible for a larger minor sports program and a more extensive intramural set-up. Perhaps a conference will even make basketball a paying proposition. As things are, minor sports may have to be curtailed in future athletic programs because of lack of funds.

Minor sports always present a problem when it comes to schedule-making. A good conference turns this headache into the coaches delight. The schedule for conference games would always be prepared at least two years in advance. For this reason it would be an easy matter to negotiate for two or three intersectional games with major opponents each year in both football and basketball. Furthermore it always helps in this negotiating to be a member of some well known conference.

We’ll admit that the formation of a strong conference is about as difficult as outrunning “Superman,” but it is necessary. Anyone who sets out to do the job will be pitted against age-old jealousies, prejudices, and indifferentism, but any of the coaches of the above named schools who block plans for a new conference will be cutting their own throats.

Will some one just do something concrete? Everyone is waiting for the other fellow to start something while the crowd is sinking with a mill-stone tied around its neck. It is incumbent upon every coach and every athletic director of every suffering school to act. We suggest that Dayton take the lead. The University of Dayton sports staff pledges full support and cooperation, even to the extent of furnishing clerical aid to whoever shows the courage and the leadership necessary to save our unorganized football.

(Ed. Note: Immediately after the appearance of the above editorial in the December 13 issue of the U. D. News, Harry Baujan sent copies of the article along with “feeler” letters to the Athletic Directors of the schools mentioned. Further developments in this agitation for another conference to replace the defunct Buckeye will be carried in the January Alumnus.)

Pictures too Small

My Dear Jim:

Your page of "Highlights" in the November Alumnus was a little masterpiece. I recognized five I had sent you. Either the paper or the cut or the printer, or all three together did 100% telling work. They were so clear for being so small.

In your files there should be cuts of much larger size and it would be of advantage to use them, Pictures lose in value by-reduction. They also increase in value by write-ups. Number five, of the Holy Name Rally, covers more than one generation. Number twelve, of Edward the Confessor, would surprise by the number of future reverends and very reverends which it exhibits; and that on the stage.

I wouldn't like to be in your shoes when you get this, but I beg the good Lord to bless the big Homecoming Day!

Yours of 1893—and later—

You're Right—We're Wrong

Dear Jim:

re: "Highlights of History."

Picture No. 8—"A group of freshmen, 1926."

If my mind does not fail me, these men were freshmen in 1925. Again they could not be freshmen and wear the monogram for it was in 1924 that the newly organized Monogram Club did away with the awarding of letters to freshmen.

I wonder how many other alumni picked up this error in the November edition of the Alumnus. Again let me congratulate you on your fine work. I regret that I am unable to be with you all on Homecoming.
