Spring is here!
(See co-ed sports. Page 4)
Dear Alumnus:

At the half way mark in the "All Out for Dayton" campaign we can point with pride to two very pertinent accomplishments. First, we have already passed last year in membership numbers. Second, there has been an unprecedented amount of interest manifest both on the part of captains and workers and individual alumni as well. There has not been a solitary objection voiced. Address corrections and news items are literally flooding in. This is an evidence of the good will we so urgently need in our association. Let's keep the ball rolling!

There has been some question among individual alumni as to whether membership payments should be paid direct to the alumni office or to a campaign worker. The answer is, it makes no difference. If you have not been called on by a worker, you may make your donation direct to the alumni office, and your chapter (if you live in a chapter city), will get full credit, or the captain to whom your name has been assigned, will get credit. Another question has to do with the amount of donations. Annual dues have been set by the Board of Directors at $4.00 per year. This figure is a standard. It may be increased or decreased according to the individual alumnus' ability to pay. It may be paid in installments. ANY AMOUNT IS MOST WELCOME!

The important thing is, the Alumni Association needs your moral and financial support. The amount of support you are capable of giving is secondary. We know you will do your best.

With spring here and the campus in full bloom, the school is a beehive of activity. The final six-week period is just beginning. The under-graduates are looking expectantly toward balmy summer days with her or him; the seniors are beginning to get that feeling that only you grads who have experienced it can really understand. Faculty members are attending academic conferences throughout the middle-west and east. Spring football is in full sway and the varsity nine and intra-mural sports are pursuing their recreation on almost every available inch of the campus. It's an apropos paraphrase of Browning to say, "Oh to be in school again, now that April's there!"
OUR YESTERDAYS

35 Years Ago—April, 1906

The first person to purchase one of the “Brothers’ lots” on Brown Street was Alphonse Althoff ’84.

Joseph Mayl led the senior “letters” class with an 88 average. Carl Sherer, with 97, led the science department. The basketball team tacked Wittenberg’s “gentlemanly quintet,” 48 to 15.

25 Years Ago—April, 1916

The basketball team defeated Heidelberg 44 to 22 and West Lafayette 31 to 16 before dropping their first intercollegiate contest to Muskingum 38 to 36. The Red and Blue finished the season by beating the Alumni 22 to 19, thus avenging a previous setback at the hands of the “old boys.” The season intercollegiate record was ten wins and one defeat.

10 Years Ago—April, 1931

The Rifle Team, under the coaching of Lt. Hugh Johnson, won the fifth corps area championship. Gertrude Bucher won a free trip to Bermuda.

J. K. Crocket, Joe Keegan and John Craig were injured in an auto accident. The students were on their way to Columbus to participate in a shoulder-to-shoulder rifle match with Ohio State.

Sir William F. Montavon was chosen Commencement speaker.

LIFE LAUDS WORK OF SIX DAYTONIANS

—at Institutum Divi Thomae

In a recent issue of Life magazine an impressive display was given to the work of the Institutum Divi Thomae. The Institutum is a scientific research establishment founded by Cincinnati’s Archbishop John T. McNicholas. At present it is engaged in research work in marine life at the former home of philanthropist-sportsman E. R. Bradley in Palm Beach, Florida.

Significant in the story is the fact that no less than six individuals with University of Dayton connections are engaged in the project, either as staff members or as students.

Most prominent is Dr. William A. Beck, S.M., former professor of biology at the university, now on leave of absence. The director of the institute is Dr. George Sperti, Hon. ’35. The dean of the institutum is Rt. Rev. Msgr. Cletus Miller ’24. Dr. Alfred Lensing, S.M., a former professor, and Sister Mary Petronilla, a former student, are also on the staff. Rev. Charles Holsclaw ’35 is a graduate student.

Hilltop Happenings

BRICKER LAUDS U. D. BUREAU—Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio termed the selective service information bureau of the University of Dayton “an outstanding aid to students and an important defense activity of education,” in a conference with Thomas Ryan, C.S.V., head of the department of political science. A pig iron collection of Donald Rist, junior civil engineering student, was a featured attraction during the ground breaking ceremonies for the American Rolling Mills’ new plant in Ashland, Ky. The collection, only one of its kind in the country, comprises pigs from all of the 96 furnaces which have existed in the Hanging Rock Iron Region of southern Ohio since the first which was built in 1812. Representatives of the Upsilon Delta Sigma debate society were undefeated in their trips through the East and South this winter. George F. Kohles, S.M., associate professor of English, is writing a series of articles on Mexico for the Dayton Daily News.

STUDENT COUNCIL—The student body elected 14 members to the recently approved student council. Representatives from widely separated geographical localities, as far west as Honolulu, T.H., and as far east as New York city, form the membership. Nineteen seniors have completed seven semesters of college work with 2.5 average or better to merit Alpha Sigma Tau scholastic honorary keys. The university was host to delegates of the Ohio credit unions Sunday, March 23. Father Henry Fritz, S.M., professor of philosophy, addressed the group. Joseph G. BASEBALL

The baseballers have been holding daily drills for the last two weeks with the exception of the candidates who are also on the football squad. The footballers were released from grid drills Tuesday and now the group are in intensive training for the first game with the University of Cincinnati, April 18.

Biggest problem on Coach Baujan's hands is the replacement of Jean Stapenhorst '40, and Glen Smolka '40, for his mound staff. Irvin Pangallo is the only returning veteran for this position, but Baujan has several other likely candidates.

Outstanding among the material are infielders, Joe Paluzzi and Paul Froendhoff; outfielders, Gene Westendorf, Bob Kavanaugh and Bob Stacey; and catchers, Paul Herking and Jack Curley.

Ass't. Coach Jim Carter Directs Grid Hopefuls

Spring football practice has been welding last year's varsity and the freshmen into a smoothly operating collegiate football team. Two scrimmages have been held to date, and both augur of much power for next season when the Flyers will need plenty against such foes as Tennessee, Marshall and North Dakota.

Baujan is boasting of five teams at the present time, and the surprising part of the story is that every one seems good enough to give any of the lesser powers Dayton will face next season a good run for the money.

Outstanding to date has been a freshman back from Toledo, Harold Mauch, who has displayed the same fight and team spirit which characterized the immortal Jack Padley. Other freshman standouts are: backs, Jack Castignola, Richard Kelly, Milton McGuire, Don Pinciotti and Eddie Shanahan; center, Bill Powers; tackles, Harry Bergman, Gifford Leap and Jack Male; guards, Jim Hamby and Walter Rudnicki; and ends, Joseph Zoul and Clarence Couture. Another pleasant surprise is the fact that Richard Strugarek, sophomore quarterback, has looked every inch the man to fill the shoes of the doubtful quarterback position vacated by senior Gene Westendorf.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Coed sports have really begun to take on meaning at the University of Dayton this year. Under the direction of Miss Ardene Stephens, graduate assistant in the department of physical education, the Women's Athletic Association has sponsored a complete, year-round schedule of intramural sports.

In the fall the girls played a regular round robin of league competition in soccer. Believe it or not, the coeds weren't too delicate about their technique in this game, either, but no one was hurt as the girls were required to wear soft toed shoes.

With the new gym facilities for coed students an extensive round of intramural basketball was featured for the winter schedule. Other sports on the program were fencing and bowling. Bowling was strictly on the intramural side while a few intercollegiate fencing matches appeared on the girls' schedule.

With the advent of the clear spring weather, the girls have turned to field hockey, softball, tennis and golf. This is the first year that field hockey has ever been played on the Flyer campus, and judging from student interest, it is here to stay. Responsible for the student attention to women's sports, is the large freshman class of coeds and the stimulation given to these sports by Miss Stephens, a graduate in physical education from the American College of Physical Education.

GOLF

After a year's absence from the official athletic budget, intercollegiate golf will be supported by the university this season. Prospects for a well-balanced team are bright and it looks like this year's edition will add to the brilliant U. D. golf tradition that consists of four team and four individual state championships in the last nine years.

Most likely to see action on the team are John Humm, Metropolitan New York junior champ and victor in the Long Island junior tournament; Herbert Hayes of Dayton, Ted Chang of Honolulu, T.H., Gus Kizeler of Dayton, Bill Moran of Freeport, N. Y., and Bob Haley of Dayton.

1941 Memberships Surpass Last Year
Having already surpassed last year’s membership total, the 1941 “All Out for Dayton” membership drive goes into its third week with every indication of ultimate success. But one chapter has filed a complete report as yet—Washington, D. C. However, advance reports from the various chapters indicate unprecedented interest and all chapter presidents seem confident of success.

Reports from six captains in non-chapter cities tell the same story—interest and avowed success.
As outlined in the last issues of the Alumnus, the purpose of the drive is to obtain 1000 paid memberships at $4.00. The income thus obtained, $4,000, is needed to carry the annual financial burden of the Association.
If this goal is obtained it will mean that the money previously taken from the university's operating budget for the purpose may be once more directed into much needed academic pursuits. The Association stands at the crossroads of its recent rejuvenation and its future depends entirely upon the results of the present campaign.
That is why we urge so strongly the support of every captain, worker and individual alumnum in this “All Out for Dayton” campaign.

Ray Conner is directing the drive. A meeting of the entire chapter is

Verne and Don Malloy Form U. D. “Brother Act” for Uncle Sam

There’s a whale of a human interest yarn in the following two letters from the Malloy brothers, Verne ’36 and Don ’40. Verne’s letter is addressed to “Mom and Pop” and comes from the heart of one of Uncle Sam’s new cadet flyers, Don, who is in the infantry, has addressed his letter to his little nephew, Jimmy, the son of Ed Malloy ’35. The Malloy brothers were engaged in four inter-collegiate sports at the university over a nine-year period and were also active in campus affairs. Their “Pop” is Henry J. “Hank” Malloy, long a leading figure in the work of the Dayton Boosters.

Here are the letters:

Hello Mom and Pop:

Well folks, I did it today, I took her up solo and got along fine. It really made me feel swell, I am about the fifth or sixth man to solo. The instructor complimented me afterwards, saying I did a good job. They pass very few compliments out down here.

Following is a typical day’s schedule:

Morning
5:15 Reveille
5:25 Assembly
5:30 Calisthenics
5:50 Breakfast
6:40 Flying
9:55 Drill
11:10 Lunch

Afternoon and Evening
12:10 School
3:10 Drill
4:25 Retreat
4:45 Dinner
5:30 Athletics
6:55 Study hall
9:15 Taps
I get along fine with the fellows and they have appointed me unofficial leader of our barracks. Makes me feel pretty important, Well, I have to get some studying done for a navigation test tomorrow.

Dear Jimmie:

Hi Stinky, how are you? No little man, I’m not upstairs now. I won’t be for a long time to come. Don’t tell the folks, Jim, but this army life is a pretty tough racket.

The first week we were here they issued rifles to us and we had close order drill. We took a six-mile hike with pack and rifles. Boy Jim, were my dogs barking at the end of that session. Have you licked anybody on the street lately?

Keep away from those beer bottles and listen to me. The camp covers six square miles and includes fifty-five new barracks, besides the hospital area and the regimental area, Our sergeant is a full-blooded Cherokee Indian. He has been in the army twenty-three years.

This week we have been on the rifle range every day, Wednesday it rained all day and we sloshed in mud over our shoe tops. Man, it was brutal, son, Thursday we were supposed to fire on the range, which by the way, is largest in the world—230 targets in all. We fired for the first time and little feller it certainly sounded like the real thing when 230 rifles let go at once. The total number of men firing was 1500. The distances were 200 and 300 yards. I scored a total of 141 points out of a (Continued on Page 8)

WRITES FROM ARGENTINA—

Dear Jim:

Thanks for the copies of the "Alumnus" which have been arriving regularly, the February issue having come in during the past week. I find it very interesting as it is practically the only information I receive about what is happening at the school.

Enclosed is a check for four dollars covering my dues for the year 1941. Sorry I didn't send this sooner but I was under the impression that dues were payable for the school year since I have one of your receipts among my collection showing dues paid for the year 1939-40.

Best of regards and continued and more success in the future.

Sincerely,

PLANS VISIT—

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find check covering my 1941 alumni dues.

Have not had the opportunity to take a very active interest in the association in the past due to lack of time. However, last November I was transferred to Coldwater as district manager and engineer with my office here in Coldwater.

Have quite an extensive district to take care of, but hope to find time to take an active part in the activities of our Alumni Association.

Say hello to my friends at the university. Am planning on coming to Dayton soon to renew old acquaintances.

Sincerely,

COMPOSES POEM—

Dear friends:

Having received notice of the 1941 membership campaign which is to get under way Thursday, March 27th, may I say that much as I should like to come I will be unable to attend the meeting at the U.

However, I desire to hold membership in the alumni of my school and for this reason it pleases me to send my check for the dues which I understand is $4.00.

I wrote the following verse, which I think is quite suitable to the occasion at hand. I am including it for no special purpose except perhaps to have it make my letter a little more generous with its script.

CONSIDER

In life, if man would have what's fair
Or gain the highest thrill
He must of life's ingredient
Partake his noble fill.

This is the law, if heeded
By lofty attitudes,
Meridians shall turn to him
And friendly latitudes.

As applied to the Drive—it ought to read somewhat as follows:

The highest thrill—belongs to the membership.

Life's ingredient—that part where-in each may serve.

The law—loyalty to dear Alma Mater.

Lofty attitudes—loyalty expressed by actual deeds.

Meridians shall turn—in acknowledgment of achieved goals.

And friendly latitudes—satisfaction within when attainment is won.

Sincerely yours for all out to win—no less, and godspeed

WITH DuPONT—

Dear Brownie:

Just a note to say hello and ask how everything is with the old school.

I am with du Pont Construction Division as an assistant area engineer on equipment installation and we have plenty of trouble getting equipment, etc.

I heard Bill Bach has been very ill lately.

Not much in the way of news from this part, so I will close.
