MARIAN LIBRARY STUDIES, founded in 1953, began its New Series in 1969. It is an annual for the publication, in the principal research languages, of scholarly articles fostering the renewal and development of Marian studies by integrating them with other spheres of research:

- Critical editions of texts
- Historical bibliography
- Historical research and its documentation: studies, chronicles, miscellanea
- Comparative studies in religion, theology, spirituality, archeology, iconography, symbolism, religious anthropology, psychology...

On occasion, one or more numbers will be given over entirely to the publication of some special extensive study.
