*It isn't enough to talk about peace. One must believe in it. And it isn't enough to

SPOTLIGHT ON...

Still Time To Do Something Different

Each year, the Center for Social Concern coordinates hundreds of students in a variety of service-based immersion experiences. These take place on campus, in Dayton, around the country and around the world. Many of you have attended one or more of these experiences and have been positively changed by them.

So, what are you doing over Winter Break? Hopefully you will be spending quality time with family and friends, relaxing, and getting ready for another semester. In addition to that you can also take some time to do something a little different; such as dedicating one week of your time to a domestic Winter BreakOut trip?

There is still space on some of the domestic Winter BreakOuts, held January 5-12, to Chicago, East St Louis, and Bloomington. These are great opportunities to get out of your comfort zone, be immersed in a new community, learn about the joys and struggles of others and help out a bit. It is the perfect way to begin a new year and extend the holiday spirit of giving.

The new deadline for the available BreakOuts is extended until November 22. More specific trip information and the application is online at http://www.udayton.edu/ministry/csc/breakouts/winter_breakout_domestic.php Scholarships are available for those who cannot provide the full trip fee. Don't miss this chance for a life changing experience. If you have any questions, please contact Mary Niebler at mniebler1@udayton.edu.
