Valentine's Day

A dozen red roses, a box of chocolates, and a romantic dinner out with the one you love. Sounds like the ideal Valentine's Day, right? I would say so! It's very natural and human of us to love and to be loved in return. Even as little children the concept of falling in love was introduced to us in fairy tales. We were so captivated by the typical story of the princess waiting for her prince to come and sweep her off her feet and to ask her to marry him.

A lot of us, even as adults, are still captivated by those fairy tales and stories. The reason for that is because we were created by a loving God. A God who is love! He created us to find love and companionship in Him and in another. God even said in Scripture, "It is not good for man to be alone." So God cast a sleep on the man, took one of his ribs, and built a woman. And behold, the man's response when he saw the woman: "This one, at last, is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh." Now this is a love story.

So, you might be saying, "but I don't have a significant other to share Valentine's Day with." I say, do not be discouraged. God's timing can be pretty pristine. Trust in Him and trust in His timing. Be with friends and family, love them, and know you are loved in return.
