ROTC INSPECTION HELD ON MAY 17

The first peace-time Annual Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC) inspection at the university was held, Friday, May 17.

A military review at 9 a.m. in the stadium began the inspection. To complete the remainder of the schedule before noon, the rest of the morning was devoted to various squad and platoon tests. Father George J. Renneker, S.M., president, and the deans of the university entertained the visiting military officers at luncheon in the university dining hall. During the afternoon inspection in basic infantry tactics, mechanical training, weapons, and drill concluded the program. The ability of the cadet officers to instruct also was tested.

Cadet Col. F. Gilbert Stovicek received the medal donated by the Reserve Officers Association. Lt. Col. Charles H. Boesch, ’34, of the officers reserve corps, presented the award which is based on scholarship, leadership and interest in work beneficial to the ROTC.

Cadet Capt. William Wright, Jr. received the second medal, a gift from the Roy G. Fitzgerald, Jr., American Legion Post, Post 589. This award was made to the cadet who had contributed the most time and effort to the advancement of the ROTC. Lt. Col. Elmer J. Will, ’37, presented this award.

The two experts on the men’s rifle team received the rifle marksmanship trophies. Frank Havens received the first award, and Paul Grusenmeyer received the trophy for second place in scoring. These awards were donated by Capt. Robert C. Bailey, rangemaster and instructor in military science and tactics at U. D., and John Forbes, rifle team coach.

Present in the reviewing stand as special guests were William A. Bertsch, lieutenant, U. S. Army, retired, commander of the Roy G. Fitzgerald, Jr., American Legion Post; Charles E. Decker, commander of the Third District American Legion; and Clarence H. Gosiger, and Harry Finke, prominent U. D. alumni.

Girls’ Rifle Team Active on Campus

U. D. has long had an ROTC rifle team and a varsity rifle team but something new has been added this semester in the form of a girls’ rifle team. Organized by popular demand, the team attracted thirty-six coeds who, after learning the proper technique, fired four matches and competed for a trophy to be awarded to the high scorer.

Cpt. Robert C. Bailey, executive officer of the ROTC unit and veteran of campaigns on New Guinea and the Philippines, is captain, and John Forbes, pre-medical student, who served in the marines on Tarawa, Saipan, Guam, and Okinawa as gunnery sergeant, is coach of the new team. They use 22 cal. Springfield rifles in the seven place, 50-foot range in the basement of St. Mary’s Hall.

Preliminaries, such as rifle nomenclature, safety, care, and cleaning, and sighting and positions occupied the first meetings of the group. Not until the fundamentals were thoroughly learned were the girls allowed to begin the actual firing. Afterwards they practiced firing from the four positions, prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. All agreed that holding nearly nine pounds of rifle in the standing position was the hardest way to shoot.

The team turned in creditable scores in the four matches this year but won’t be completely ready to function in competition until next year. Most rifle matches are fired by “mail.” The teams fire on their own ranges, scores are computed and recorded by their own rangemasters and posted on the same day. Each contestant usually fires 40 rounds, ten rounds in each of the four positions.

Captain Bailey added interest to the rifle practice by offering a cup to the highest scorer for the four positions combined.

ALUMNUS NAMED TO MUNICIPAL BENCH

Gov. Frank J. Lausche recently announced the appointment of Robert L. McBride, ’34, to the civil bench of the municipal court, Dayton.

McBride was named to fill the vacancy left by the sudden death of Charles Baumann, ’31. Charlie died as a result of a heart attack. He had served only three months of a four-year term.

A veteran of World War II, McBride served in the navy. After receiving his law degree from the university, he was admitted to practice in 1934. Bob also served on the staff of the university as an instructor in business law.

65 DEGREES TO BE CONFERRED
AT 97th COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

DR. B. L. STRADLEY

Commencement exercises for the University of Dayton class of 1946 will be held Sunday, June 9, at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Dayton Art Institute. Fifty-seven bachelor's and eight master's degrees will be conferred with the president, Father George J. Reneker, S.M., presiding.

Dr. Bland L. Stradley, vice-president of Ohio State University, will be the commencement speaker. In 1919 Dr. Stradley became affiliated with the staff at Ohio State in the capacity of university examiner. He served in that capacity until 1937 when he was named dean of the college of arts and sciences. In January, 1944, Dr. Stradley was elected to the office of vice-president.

Supervision of student relationships, including admissions, registrations, campus organizations, health services, guidance, and student employment are within the scope of his responsibility. The selection of worthy students to be admitted to the cooperative dormitories, those students who during the depression days had participated in a federal government self-help program of part time employment, were processed by Dr. Stradley. He also has had the responsibility in assisting in the selection of students for the professional colleges, such as medicine and dentistry.

Dr. Stradley is a past president of the North Central Association, the accrediting organization for 300 colleges and 3000 high schools in 20 states. Recently he has served this association as chairman of its state committee for Ohio. Dr. Stradley was instrumental in the accreditation of the University of Dayton with the North Central Association. It was due to his suggestions, interest and cooperation that U. D. became accredited by the North Central.

Dr. Stradley took his undergraduate work at Ohio Wesleyan and his graduate work at Harvard. Honorary degrees have been granted to him from three universities, Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio Northern and the University of Dayton, in acknowledgment of his work in behalf of the colleges and high schools in the state of Ohio.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the university chapel at 10:00 a.m. Sunday. The Very Reverend Cletus A. Miller, B.A., will deliver the sermon at the Mass.

HONORARY DEGREE

Father Miller will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Education at the commencement exercises.

A native of Springfield, Ohio, Father Miller received his elementary and secondary education at St. Raphael's. He took his undergraduate work at the University of Dayton, from which he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1924. After completing his theological studies, he was ordained to the priesthood on June 9, 1928, at Mount Saint Mary Seminary, Norwood, Ohio. From 1931 to 1934, he was enrolled in the graduate division of the University of Cincinnati. Father Miller taught at Elder High School, Cincinnati, and was superintendent of St. Aloysius Orphanage, and chaplain of the Newman club at the University of Cincinnati from 1929 to 1938.

His Excellency, Archbishop John T. McNicholas appointed the Very Reverend Cletus A. Miller dean of the Institutum Divi Thomae at the time of its founding, ten years ago. Having been chosen to help establish this scientific research center, Father Miller has applied himself in a very diligent, devoted and efficient manner since its beginning. The graduate school of scientific research of the Institutum has progressed under the supervision of Father Miller, through his constant encouragement of scholarship and scientific research. To date the Institutum is affiliated with 14 research laboratories, and nearly 200 scientists throughout the country.

His contributions to the war effort include his position as chief consultant to the War Production Board, assisting the Board in the organization of the scientific manpower of the nation, resulting in the office of Technical Development. The Office of Production Research and Development is the outgrowth of the previously mentioned department.

Allan Braun, senior class president, from Troy, Ohio, will deliver the valedictory address. Degrees will be granted in arts, business administration, education, science, home economics, and mechanical engineering. The candidates will be presented by their respective deans.

15 Housing Units
For Faculty Vets

Representative Edward J. Gardner, Third Ohio district, announced that fifteen surplus war housing units have been allocated to the University of Dayton.

Brother Elmer Lackner, assistant dean, division of arts, and former Alumni secretary, submitted an application to the Federal Housing Authority. The assignment was made possible through recent legislation authorizing additional funds for the veterans' temporary housing program.

Sites will be furnished by the university. The units will be erected on Zehler and Union Aves., and will be used for members of the faculty who are veterans. It is believed that these units will be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall school term.

The university will have the responsibility of managing the project as long as the housing is needed by veterans, and for the disposition of the units at the end of the emergency.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT HOLDS SPRING FETE

The annual spring festival and concert sponsored by the University of Dayton featured a mixed chorus of 60 voices. Selections from the popular operettas and musical comedies, “The Student Prince,” “Naughty Marietta,” “Show Boat,” and “The Desert Song,” were included on the program.

The program under the direction of Mrs. Troy Sears and Maurice Reicher, head of the music department, included the presentation of the senior achievement queen, Ada Kay Bomford. She was selected by the students on the basis of outstanding achievement in both academic and extra-curricular activities. Miss Bomford, senior arts student, was the first woman editor of the “Exponent,” the campus literary magazine, and the oldest student publication.

The queen and her court reigned at the music festival. Representatives of the four classes attended her as a court of honor. Senior attendants were: Harriet Theodore, Marguerite Turner, and Leticia Rose; juniors, Eleanor Kurtz and Rita McGarry; representing the sophomores was Mary Ann Kessen, and the freshman attendant was Charlotte Stout.

The Sporting Scene

BASEBALL DROPPED

U. D.'s first baseball season since 1942 came to an abrupt close after the third collegiate game. Coach Harry Baujan in announcing the cancellation of the balance of the games scheduled gave as his reasons difficulties in scheduling games and insufficient time to devote to it. While Baujan has been busy with spring football practice, Cy Klamo of Middletown has been acting coach.

After a poor showing in practice games in which they lost 4 out of 5 to industrial league and service teams, the Flyers turned in creditable college performances winning two and losing a third by a one-run margin.

U. D. 8—MIAMI 3

The Flyers chalked up Number 1 against a favored Miami nine, scoring all their runs in an eight run rally in the second inning. Gene Wolke, right fielder, homered to drive in three of the runs. Laverne Bare, left fielder, batted three for four, and Neal Breesman and Joe Moylan each garnered two hits for U. D. Breesman held the visitors to seven scattered hits and struck out 10.

U. D. 3—WILMINGTON 0

Bill Gutbrot's 6 hit pitching, and good infield support shut out Wilmington in the second home game. Gene Wolke again starred at bat with a pair of triples. He scored one run and drove in another.

WILMINGTON 6—U. D. 5

The Flyers lost a heart-breaker and Wilmington won one they'll talk about a long time. U. D. scored first then boosted the count to 5 to 0 by a four-run rally in the sixth inning. Wilmington got two runs back in the seventh inning and entered the last half of the ninth inning leading by a 3 to 2 score. Then, with the bases loaded Ganges of Wilmington broke up the game with a home run. Joe Medisch got three hits for the Flyers. Mike Hunt, catcher, suffered a broken ankle sliding into second base.

“Grid Prospects Dark”—Baujan

Coach Harry Baujan continued pessimistic about the 1946 grid prospects. Of nearly seventy candidates who reported for the first practice session, scarcely 30 were left by mid-May. None were cut from the squad but injuries, tough practice sessions, and the draft took their toll. Rainy weather hasn't helped the situation either. It is doubtful if any intersquad games will be played.

Although some of the football newcomers, such as backs Paul Reichert and Glen Mumpower, showed up well, most of the unknowns on the team will continue to be unknown.

Kenny Pitzer and Tuffy Brooks were handicapped by old trick knees and several others of the squad received injuries in scrimmage that will keep them out of practice lineups this spring.

Uncle Sam continues to interfere with Flyer grid plans. Although none have actually been drafted, many of the young high school players training with the Flyers, expecting to go into service soon, quit the squad. Coach Baujan also finds that “the layoff from sports has hurt the war veteran. We have different troubles with some of the boys every day. Their legs seem to have taken the worst beating.”

Baujan is counting heavily on members of the '42 team who are already back and who are expected to be here in the fall. These include Don Pinciotti, Joe Accrocco, Lee Schmidt, Mitt McGuire, Jack Castignola, Po Powers, Richard Rudnicki, and Bill Goss.

Others still out (as of May 15) are: Boff, Bolton, Blaire, Boxwell, Brooks, Bush, Carson, Dahm, DiCiacco, Dobbins, Goss, Gutbroid, Hall, Hanby, Hickey, Terzi, Jones, Klotz, Maloney, Mariscalco, Mills, Mumpower, Pitzer, Reidy, Schiebelluth, Shutzman, Scrafiefield, Seeboeck, Shingledecker, Shovery, Stamatas, Toccani, Zavakovs, Zimmerman, Reichert, Stein, Bescancy, Martin, and Davis.

Lt. Dick Welch

Writes From ETO

Lt. F. R. (Dick) Welch, '44, is stationed with the Seventh Infantry as provost marshal in Rotterdam, Germany, since last October. Among the duties assigned to him is that of helping to reunite German families long separated since the war.

“It has been a difficult task,” he writes to his family and friends. “Thousands of Germans are being brought in box cars daily. The children are the pathetic ones, who have been parentless for many months, but we are gradually trying to reunite them with their families.”

PRE-MEDS HOLD FAREWELL DINNER

The Wishing Well Inn, Centerville, was the scene of the annual farewell banquet of Sigma Delta Pi, University of Dayton pre-medical society. The new members were formally presented with their club pins, and the election of officers for the coming school year took place.
