Flyers Upset Ohio U. Bobcats

Climax of the 1946 football year was the Flyers' impressive victory over the Bobcats of Ohio University. More than 300 students chartered a special train to follow the team to Athens for the game in which the Bobcats were predicted to be easy victors. The team, taunted by sportswriters after the previous week's defeat by Chattanooga, entered the game as the underdogs but exhibited such fighting spirit and drive that spectators, who called the game the best grid spectacle of the year, predicted a Dayton victory before a score had been made by either team.

The game was not decided on "breaks," but was the result of good hard football played by everyone on the Dayton team. Undismayed by failure to score after driving the length of the field twice on the outstanding running attacks of halfbacks Jack Castignola and Art Bok, the Flyers took the ball over from their own 28-yard line in the third quarter and again marched down the field in a beautiful succession of first downs to the Bobcat fifteen, from where little Jack Castignola sliced off tackle for the first Dayton score.

Don Peden's Ohio U. team who outweighed the Flyers were determined not to be outfought and took the ball on the next kickoff and ploughed back down the field in an unbroken series until a Bobcat back cut over his right guard for the score.

It was the Flyers turn to be determined and after taking the kickoff on their own 29, didn't relinquish the pigskin until big fullback Don Pinciotti had plunged over from the five-yard stripe to score the winning tally. Final score was 14 to 7.

THE GRIDIRON IN REVIEW

Seeing their last action in the Dayton-Marshall game were nine seniors. Six appeared in the starting lineup, including center Bill Powers, right guard Lee Schmidt, right tackle Bill Goss, quarterback Dan Terzi, and halfbacks Paul Reichert and Milt McGuire. Jack Castignola, little halfback, and Don Pinciotti, fullback, displayed their usual winning grid form while Dan Brant, senior center, saw relief duty in place of Powers. Three seniors, Joe Accraco, Joe Zoul, and Dick Rudnicki were injured in previous contests and were unable to play in the season finale. All three are reported all right, however.

Home-town Dayton fans have witnessed as many Dayton defeats as victories while the Flyer club has always turned in a winning performance on the road. Except for a small band of avid Flyer followers, most Dayton fans have had to rely on newspaper and radio reports for news of some of the best Flyer action away from home.

U. D. Defeats Toledo

First road game for the Dayton eleven was in the University of Toledo's Glass Bowl. Paced by ex-Toledo high school stars the Flyers spoiled the Toledo Homecoming by scoring 20 points to the Rockets' 13. First score in the game came in the first period when former Toledo Central high school athlete Dick Dahn snagged a pass from Paul Reichert and romped from the 20 to the goal stripe. In the second period Toledan Don Pinciotti battered his way over the goal on a series of running plays and Dahn kicked the point. Art Bok, right halfback and another Toledo resident, ran 40 yards around left end for another Dayton touchdown in the fourth period and Dick Rudnicki, another Toledan, booted the point.

ALUMNI SEE FLYERS VICTORY

On Homecoming Day before the assembled alumni the Flyers faced an undefeated Western Reserve team, but made good to the old grads and defeated Reserve to the tune of 20 to 6. Highlight of the game occurred in the second period when after some ragged ball handling by the Flyers, the Reserve Red Cats had battered their way down to the Dayton 24-yard line and seemed bent on scoring. But big fullback Don Pinciotti snagged a pass thrown by Reserve's stellar back Warren Lahr, and scrambled 78 yards for a Dayton touchdown aided by a timely block by Ken Boxwell. Bill Goss converted and that meant a slight margin at the half for the Red Cats scored soon after but failed to convert.

In the second period of the Alumni Day game the Red and Blue eleven settled down and freshman halfback Art Bok was responsible for two more tallies, one on the receiving end of a pass from Paul Reichert.

Xavier Defeated

On U.D.'s next road trip the charges of Harry Baujan invaded the stadium of Xavier Musketeers and returned from that invasion with an easy 33 to 6 decision over the traditional bitter rivals. For the first time this season the Flyers met little opposition and Baujan used everyone of the 41-man squad that made the trip. The second team entered the game in the second quarter and many of the fourth string were in action in the closing minutes of the tussle. For Dayton Bill Gutbrod, end, made two touchdowns on the receiving end of passes, while Art Bok, Don Pinciotti and Ray Janaszek each accounted for a touchdown. U.D.'s first tally came before the game was two minutes old when Bok ran for 17 yards after Castignola had set up the score by intercepting a Xavier pass. A Dayton fumble in the end zone accounted for the lone Xavier score.

In three home games the Flyers were humbled at the hands of capable Miami, Cincinnati, and a Chattanooga team that had been toughened by skirmishes with powerhouse teams like Tennessee and Wake Forest. Miami ran over the Red and Blue in the second game of the season by a 35 to 0 score, and Cincinnatii took over the next week, also in the U.D. stadium, to the tune of 19 to 0.

The Moccasins from Chattanooga, Tenn., challenged Dayton on its home field, and walked off victorious, 34 to 7.

Reactivated Band
E elects Officers

Three Navy veterans now head the University of Dayton's fifty piece marching band as a result of the recent election of officers.

Everett Archdeacon, Centerville, a junior premedical student, was elected president. Tom Sheetz, freshman art student, is vice-president and Bill Wagner, freshman arts, is secretary-treasurer. Sheetz and Wagner are both Daytonians.

The band, which appears at all school functions, has added new red hats to their uniforms. According to Maurice Reichard, head of the music department, these new hats are the first in a series of purchases designed to dress up the dark blue band uniforms.

Basketball Next
In the Spotlight

With the first post-war University of Dayton football season just a matter for the record books the attention of U.D. sports fans has switched to basketball and the prospects for the cage team which faces a tough 21-game schedule. More than 60 hopefuls turned out for the first practice, and head basketball coach Jim Carter faces the task of weeding out a varsity squad in time for the initial contest against Wittenberg College, Dec. 10.

Carter is relying heavily upon three lettermen who are returning with experience in last year's 16-game season. Bill Ginn, high-scoring sophomore forward who prepped at Dayton Stivers high school leads the trio which includes Bob Bockraft, forward, Chaminade high product, and Bob Wolfe, stubby guard, also from Stivers. Returning also are Charles Jones and Gene Wolke who played on last season's quintet.

Regular practice for the hoosters began Nov. 25 and home games will be played in the Fairgrounds Coliseum. With such a big turnout Coach Carter predicts a cage season with plenty of excitement and good play with the possibility of a very successful season.
