THE JOURNAL OF THE BLACK CATHOLIC THEOLOGICAL SYMPOSIUM (BCTS), was founded in 2007.

MANUSCRIPTS should be submitted to the editorial board by the deadline announced at the Annual Meeting, which is also posted at <http://www.bcts.org>. All submissions must be formatted in Chicago Turabian style with Works Cited page and sent via electronic mail to senior editor Kimberly Flint-Hamilton: kflintha@stetson.edu, and also to editor Cecilia Moore: Cecilia.Moore@notes.udayton.edu. For examples of Chicago Turabian style, see: http://www.press.uchicago.edu/books/turabian/turabian_citationguide.html.

Contributors must submit original work. The Journal of the Black Catholic Theological Symposium is composed of original articles by its members, and will not publish manuscripts that have been previously published elsewhere.

REVIEWS of books or films that have relevance to the Black Catholic Theological Symposium may also be submitted and will be considered for publication. Reviews originally published elsewhere will not be considered for publication.

MEMBERSHIP in the Black Catholic Theological Symposium is by invitation only. Those interested in joining the organization may review membership guidelines from Article II of the Constitution, posted on the BCTS web site: <http://www.bcts.org>, and contact the secretary of the BCTS, Shawnee Daniels-Sykes, SSND, at the following electronic mail address: sykess@mtmary.edu.

The opinions expressed in the articles and/or reviews published in The Journal of the Black Catholic Theological Symposium are those of the authors and are not necessarily the opinions of the editorial board, the organization, or the publisher.

The Journal of the Black Catholic Theological Symposium is provided to all paid members of the BCTS. Additional copies of the journal may be obtained by contacting the publisher, Steven Hamilton, of Fortuity Press, at the following electronic mail address: steven.hamilton@fortuitypress.com.
