University of Dayton will take part for the second consecutive year in a nation-wide survey of the placement and vocational expectations of women college graduates, it was announced today.

Prof. R. Kathleen Whetro, dean of women at UD, and Mrs. June Benner, assistant dean, will conduct the UD portion of the survey for the sponsoring women's section of the National Vocational Guidance Association.

UD's 93 women graduates of June, 1957, will be queried in the local survey which forms a part of the fourth in a projected five-year series of such surveys being conducted in cooperation with the women's bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Information to be sought again this year will concern job opportunities for women, trends in salary levels and responsibilities, and women's interests in jobs.
