DAYTON — Washington attorney Leonard Raum, New York City attorney Martin M. Lore and Dr. Robert Holzman, professor of taxation at New York University graduate school of business administration, will be featured at the fourth annual institute on federal taxation here Oct. 30-Nov. 1.

Dr. Holzman, who has published 11 books and about 140 articles on tax and related matters, will discuss "Sound Business Purpose" at the University of Dayton-sponsored event. At the same session, Lore will explain "Disproportionate Stock Redemptions Under Sub-Chapter C." Formerly with the office of the Undersecretary of the Treasury, Lore is co-editor of the Journal of Taxation.

Raum, who served in the office of the chief counsel of the Internal Revenue service for 13 years, will discuss "Net Operating Loss Carryovers and Carrybacks."

The Institute, which more than 100 tax practitioners from all over the state are expected to attend, will be conducted in Hotel Miami.
