Resolutions re: Policies Concerning the Evaluation of Administrators: C. Phelps briefly introduced the letter and opened the floor for questions. J. Dunne asked how the deadlines were determined. C. Phelps explained that they were chosen to keep things moving. P. Benson asked if program directors were considered administrators. Yes, because the Constitution of the Academic Senate requires consultation for the purpose of permitting the Senate to propose or to comment on policies, including those on the “Selection, evaluation, and retention of Program Directors, Chairpersons, and Academic Deans” (Art. III, Para 3.h.).

K. Willard asked how the committee would be selected. C. Phelps explained that we are recommending that the President’s Council consult with ECAS on the makeup of the committee.

All three resolutions were passed unanimously.

DOC 2014-05 Student-Run Business on Campus Policy: T. Lau briefly introduced the proposed policy, stating that it was developed by a group from virtually all areas of the university with the purpose of recalibrating the risk to the university. The process would allow students greater flexibility and provide faculty with opportunities to mentor enterprising students. A 20-day waiting period allows the university time to review a proposal. If no objections, the student is free to set up business once the waiting period is over. After 30 days or after making $5,000, a student business must obtain incorporate, obtain insurance, and get a mentor. J. Mashburn asked who would monitor the businesses. S. Brown asked why a charter could be revoked for a business if a conflict with Flyer Enterprises developed after the establishment of the student business. T. Lau explained that the university has the right to protect Flyer Enterprises (FE). He would hope that FE would not actively engage in business poaching and that he and other faculty working with FE would discourage such actions. T. Whitney stated that approval from the FE board was necessary for new businesses and that several people in the room were on the board. D. Sanfilippo stated that the university should protect all students, not just FE. There was general concern among student Senators about supporting this proposal for fear of taking initiative away from their constituents. L. Leming stated that the motivator for this policy was to make it easier to start a student business. She also reminded the Senators that this policy is a huge improvement over the existing policy. T. Lau stated that the language used in the document is “generally” which allows some flexibility when potential overlap with FE, etc. is involved. D. Sanfilippo stated that the development of this policy was a victory for students. He also asked if there could be an appeals process after a charter has been revoked. T. Lau said no because every relevant area/unit had already been involved. K. Willard pointed out that there was an appeals process for violations of the policy. S. Brown asked why there was a restriction of 11 pm. T. Lau explained that Public Safety has a standing order to break up gatherings after 11 pm. For clarity, it was explained that the streets in the student neighborhood are City of Dayton property. Finally, this policy does not apply to any student-run business located off campus. On behalf of the students, D. Sanfilippo thanked everyone who had worked on this policy.

A motion was made by A. Slade and seconded by L. Leming to approve DOC 2014-05. The motion was approved (29 yes, 2 no, 1 abstention).

DOC 2014-06 Proposal to Create a Department of Physical Therapy: J. Dunne reviewed the process by which the APC reviews actions pertaining to degree programs and academic departments (based on DOC 2014-04). P. Anloague reviewed the rationale for the proposal, including the fact that the program already operates as a de facto department. No changes in resources are needed at this time.

A motion was made and seconded to approve DOC 2014-06. The motion passed (30 yes, 0 no, 1 abstention).
DOC 2014-07 Revision to the Policy on Misconduct in Research and Scholarship: L. Hartley introduced the document which was a revision of DOC 1993-01 and highlighted the most significant changes including the notification of the accused party earlier in the process. P. Anloague asked if the policy included a cease and desist order during the investigation. The answer was not currently. Discussion included the pros and cons of such an action. Some feared the use of false accusations being used to thwart research. P. Donnelly reminded the Senate that this document is reviewed as legislative concurrence.

A motion was made by H. Gerla and seconded by L. Hartley. DOC 2014-07 passed unanimously.

DOC 2014-08 Proposal for a new faculty title, Research Professor. L. Hartley introduced the proposal. This proposal is a revision of a policy passed in 2002 but never implemented. Widespread input was sought. She explained that the FAC and ECAS had endorsed changing the document action from legislative concurrence to legislative authority to correct a mistake. Hartley reminded the Senate that the vote was for a title only.

A motion was made by H. Gerla and seconded by D. Sanfilippo. DOC 2014-08 passed unanimously.

DOC 2014-09 Proposal for MS in Computer Engineering (MSCPE). J. Dunne reviewed the process by which the APC reviews proposals for new graduate degrees. J. Weber thanked everyone involved in the process and explained that the proposal was the result of years of collaboration between the School of Engineering and the College of Arts and Sciences. This degree fills an identified student need.

A motion was made and seconded. DOC 2014-09 passed unanimously.

DOC 2014-10 Proposal to initiate MS in Education – Leadership in Educational Systems. K. Kelly briefly explained the rationale for the proposal. This degree provides an overview of the US educational system and fills an identified need of international students who may not have prerequisites or who are not seeking licensure in the US.

A motion was made and seconded. DOC 2014-10 passed unanimously.

DOC 2007-05 Amendment to Processes and procedures of the Academic Senate.

A motion to approve the amended document was made and seconded. DOC 2007-05 2014 revision was unanimously approved.

C. Phelps thanked outgoing Senators for their hard work. D. Sanfilippo introduced two new student senators for next year and encouraged community engagement by all UD students, faculty, and staff. L. Hartley presented C. Phelps, outgoing President of the Academic Senate, with a thank you gift. J. Saliba thanked all outgoing Senators for their hard work.

The meeting was adjourned at 3:40 pm.

J. Saliba invited new Senators to the table for elections. The new Social Sciences representative to ECAS will be L. Leming. P. Anloague (Education) and E. Mykytka (Engineering) were re-elected to ECAS. C. Krane was elected President of the Academic Senate, P. Anloague was elected Vice-President and Emily Hicks was re-elected Secretary for 2014-2015. The members of each standing committee met briefly and chose Chairpersons for 2014-2015.

Report on Activities of the Academic Policies Committee (APC) of the Academic Senate AC 2013-2014
Submitted by Jim Dunne

Members: Philip Anloague, Paul Benson, Deb Bickford, Jim Dunne (Chair), Steve Brown (spring semester only), Andrew Evwaraye, Jasmine Lahoud (spring semester only), Zack Martin (fall semester only), Edward Mykytka, Dominic Sanfilippo (fall semester only), Andrew Slade, Karen Swisher, Kathleen Webb, and John White

The work of the APC this academic year involved the following:

CAP (common academic program), CAP committee (APC subcommittee.)
The committee reviewed the implementation progress of CAP (common academic program) which began its formal start with the August 2013 entering undergraduate students. We received a status presentation from Sawyer Hunley, Assistant Provost for CAP and Juan Santamarina, chair of the CAP Committee. The APC also recommended appointments to the CAP Leadership Team.

Document 2014-04, Actions pertaining to degree programs and academic departments.
This document which consolidates and makes consistent five (5) existing documents related to initiation of, and other possible actions for, academic degree programs and academic departments was initiated by last year’s APC. This year, the APC simplified the document’s organization, coordinated the draft document with the academic units, and then recommended approval of the document by the full senate.

New work completed this year

Final Report of the SET Committee, (Student Evaluation of Teaching).
The APC reviewed this report and developed recommendations on several implementation questions referred to us from the ECAS. One APC member, Andrew Slade, served on a coordinating group (one from each senate standing committees) which then developed an SET proposal (DOC 2014-02) for the full senate.

Honors course designations on student transcripts.
The APC reviewed a proposal from the Honors Program that requested that all honors courses receive a special designation so as to be readily identified on a student transcript. The committee gathered information including inputs from the Registrar’s Office. The APC recommended that ECAS request that the Provost’s Office implement this process for honors courses. We believe that the implementation will begin in the 2014-15 academic year.

DOC 2014-03 Proposal to merge two business majors into an International Business Management major.
The APC reviewed the proposal from the School of Business Administration to merge the Leadership and International Business majors and voted to recommend approval by the full senate. The proposal had no additional resource requirements.

DOC 2014-06 Proposal to create the Department of Physical Therapy.
The APC reviewed this proposal from the School of Education and Health Sciences and voted to recommend approval by the full senate. The proposal involved no additional resource needs.

DOC 2014-09 Proposal to initiate an MS in Computer Engineering degree program.
The APC reviewed this proposal developed jointly by the School of Engineering and the College of Arts and Sciences. The proposal responds to a clear need. It requires no new courses to be developed nor does it require any additional resources. The APC voted to recommend full senate approval.
DOC 2014-10 Proposal to initiate an MS in Education – Leadership in Educational Systems program.

The APC reviewed this proposal developed by the School of Education and Health Sciences. This proposal is in response to the needs of international students. The program will use primarily existing courses from three SEHS departments and involves no additional resources. The committee voted to recommend full senate approval of the proposal.

Ongoing work
University Policy for Academic Certificate Programs.

The APC began discussion of the possible need for a university policy for certificate programs – there is an existing policy for such programs at the graduate level. A distinguishing feature of such programs is that they can be completed by students who are not also enrolled in a degree program. A subcommittee was established; it gathered information including from the academic units and from other universities. A policy that will apply to both graduate and undergraduate certificate programs was drafted and reviewed by the full committee. Over the summer, a revised draft will be sent to the academic units and the Office for Graduate Academic Affairs for review and comment. Hopefully, a policy proposal will come to the full senate during the fall 2014 semester.

CAP (common academic program) and the CAP committee (APC subcommittee.)

Oversight of the CAP program and CAP committee will continue.

Subject: SAPC End-Of-Year Report 4/22/14

Submitted By: John McCombe

In the 2013-14 academic year, the SAPC devoted its regular meetings to discussions/revisions of three university policies.

1) Campus Policy on Student-Run Businesses

After several SAPC meetings—including ones involving current students in the SBA and staff members from Student Development, the SAPC recommended the formation of a working group to make specific recommendations regarding the revision of the existing policy. A working group consisting of SAPC members—in collaboration with representatives of interested parties from across the University—have prepared a revised, draft policy to replace the existing Policy on Student-Run Businesses and Commercial Activity. At its meeting on March 24, the SAPC reviewed the draft in preparation for bringing it to the April Senate meeting for purposes of consultation.

2) The Academic Honor Code

ECAS charged the SAPC with attending to Section IV (“Student Status with Respect to the Academic Honor Code”) and Section V (“Appeal Procedure”). Obviously, students, staff and faculty want to promote academic integrity and, across the university units and departments, there should be consistency in how the Academic Honor Code is enforced. As a result, the SAPC was asked to revise and clarify those relevant sections of the document to ensure that the policies and procedures are consistently and fairly adhered to across the University.

The SAPC consulted with the Office of Student Development (OSD)—in particular, meeting with Debra Monk (Associate Dean of Students and Director of Community Standards & Civility). The goal of the SAPC was to align more intentionally the processes for reviewing cases of academic misconduct with how other forms of misconduct are handled by the OSD. The SAPC has been invested in learning more about how the OSD works to achieve consistency and fairness.

Currently, draft revisions of both Sections IV and V of the Academic Honor Code have been completed and submitted to ECAS; the revised policy will be presented to the Senate as soon as possible. The current draft revisions emphasize the following clarifications/revisions:

- The precise window of time in which students are to be notified about suspicions of academic honesty.
- The importance of completing the Academic Dishonesty Incident Report, and where the report should be housed (i.e., the parties on campus who should receive a copy of the report) when a student commits academic dishonesty.
• The criteria for the possible expulsion of students who have committed frequent or egregious violations of the Academic Honor Code.
• The various processes by which students might appeal accusations of academic dishonesty.

3) Student Political/Electoral Activities Policy

Earlier this year, the SAPC was charged by ECAS with reviewing the current University policy on political activities, with an eye toward revising the policy in such a way to both encourage political engagement among students without jeopardizing the University’s 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status.

A smaller sub-group of SAPC members met on multiple occasions this semester—meetings that have included students from a range of majors as well staff in the Office of Student Development.

After these conversations, the working group is committed to producing a draft document that achieves the following:

• Invokes our UD commitment to developing students who are engaged citizens and have the skills necessary to critique ideas and values.

• Encourages groups to organize and advertise events that reflect the mission and goals of their organization. (Some of these are by nature partisan, but the emphasis should be on civil discourse.)

• Encourages open discourse rather than closed-door meetings.

• Creates a culture in which the taboo is not knowing what’s going on in politics and public discourse.

• Makes clear that student groups and the people they invite to speak do not speak FOR the university (several peer institutions have created policies that provide examples of how to do this).

• Encourages greater cooperation with Facilities Management.

• Encourages, with the federal government’s guidelines for 501 (c)(3) status in mind, a less narrow interpretation of what constitutes “a substantial part of the activities of the institution,” so that students have more ability to engage in appropriate political/electoral activity.

The SAPC’s work on this third issue has not yet been concluded, and this will appear as part of the SAPC agenda in August 2014.

- A special meeting of the Senate was called to address changes to the health benefits. Several resolutions were supported which reflect concerns of the Senate. The resolutions were forwarded to Joyce Carter, Vice President for Human Resources and Tom Burkhardt, Vice President for Finance and Administrative Services.

- Consultation. ECAS continued to address the consultation process between the Academic Senate and administration this year. The Educational Leadership Council (ELC) was re-established. It now consists of members of ECAS; chairs of the standing committees of the Academic Senate; president and vice-president of the Student Government Association; President Curran; Provost Saliba; and Tom Burkhardt. Other administrators are invited as their areas are related to the topic of discussion. The ELC met four times this year. Topics included budget, enrollment and facilities. This spring marked the first meeting between the President of the Board of Trustees and the President of AS. This will be an annual meeting. Additionally a FES was conducted by J. Saliba, C. Phelps, and Jon Hess, past president of the AS. The discussion of this session generated ideas for improving consultation and communication between administration, Senate, and faculty.

- Faculty members of ECAS provided input regarding items on the climate survey which is being conducted this spring. ECAS submitted a letter to Joyce Carter expressing the expectation that it will also be consulted on the dissemination of the survey results.

- CAP Competency Committee. The committee has been actively approving courses for CAP. Report to be submitted.

- UNRC. The UNRC was not active this year.

- HRAC. Senate representatives on the HRAC will be providing reports to the Senate.
The Senate was asked to review and provide comments and recommendations on two policies. Following a review of the Review of the Policy Prohibiting Illegal, Fraudulent, Dishonest, and Unethical Conduct by FAC, ECAS forwarded to Joyce Carter comments and recommendations of the FAC. Following a review of the Nondiscrimination/Title IX policy by the SAPC, comments and recommendations were forwarded to Lori Shaw. Similarly, FAC's comments and recommendations regarding that same policy will be forwarded following their review.

ECAS generated a letter and series of three resolutions related to the evaluation of administrators. If these are approved in the Senate meeting on 4/25/14, they will be forwarded to President Curran and Joyce Carter.

Issues to address in 2014-15

- Change in constitution to address the number of Senate members. This is related to the change in title for the former Dean of the Graduate School.
- Information literacy charge. This is related to Doc 2013-04 Discontinuation of the University Graduation and General Competency Program and the Establishment of an Ad Hoc Committee on Information Literacy
- Follow up on the administration’s response to the Senate resolutions regarding evaluation of administrators
- Academic honor code, include a review of study abroad code
- Consultation. The role and function of the ELC needs to be better defined. Ideas generated in the FES on consultation need to be further developed and recommendations implemented.
- Faculty titles, i.e., clinical faculty

Respectfully submitted,

Carolyn Phelps
APPENDIX E

Report from Human Resources Advisory Council to Academic Senate on Resolutions Passed Concerning Health Care Plan Changes for 2014
Part 1
April 25, 2014

This report summarizes data provided and conversation during recent HRAC meetings (March 21st and April 22nd) about two of the five resolutions passed by the Academic Senate in November 2013 concerning changes to UD’s health care plan for 2014. The other three resolutions will be discussed at future Human Resources Advisory Council meetings.

Resolved, that the Academic Senate recommends the 2014 Health Care Plan be modified to continue to include GA spouse and family coverage.

In March and April 2014, the Human Resources Advisory Council reviewed data and discussed the recent GA spouse and family health coverage changes. New information on the effect of the Affordable Care Act on GA spouse and family health coverage was discussed in April.

Recap: GAs hired after January 1, 2014, are offered single coverage under the employee health care plan, but not spousal or family coverage. All GAs hired prior to January 1, 2014 and enrolled in coverage other than single can keep that coverage for the duration of their GA contract.

Claims experience in 2012-2013 increased 173% for GA dependents over the previous year; total cost of claims for GAs was $800,000. The projected cost for 2013-2014 is $925,000.

Total number of GA’s as of November 2013 = 219
- 119 waived coverage
- 73 selected Single coverage
- 23 selected Family of employee/spouse coverage
- 4 selected Employee/child coverage

Of 25 peer schools surveyed, none provided employee health care to GAs. Nine allowed GAs to purchase student health insurance without institutional support (GAs paid the entire premium). Fewer schools are offering student health insurance due to the under-26 rule and low-cost insurance options through the exchanges.

Paul Vanderburgh, Associate Provost for Graduate Academic Affairs, clarified that graduate students are not full-time employees; they are part-time employees with a full schedule. Half of their schedule is working for the department. The other half, for which they receive full tuition remission, is their work toward fulfilling their degree requirements. P. Vanderburgh stated that the removal of coverage for spouses/families has no negative impact on recruitment or retention.

Under Ohio Medicaid expansion, most GAs would be eligible for Medicaid coverage at no or low cost, which covers nearly 100 percent of all health care costs. Families and individuals earning up to 133 percent of the federal poverty limit are eligible. Using UD salary data only, 80% of GAs currently enrolled in the University’s health care plans would be eligible for Medicaid.

For GAs not Medicaid-eligible, the cost of a plan on the exchange may be more affordable. For example: the cost to purchase 2 adult/1 child silver plan on health care exchange would cost $6,822 annually. With tax credit subsidy of $5,929, annual cost would be $894 a year or $74.50 month. University Core family coverage is $111 per month.

However, federal subsidies are only available if employer does not offer affordable coverage options, including single GA coverage. Medicaid coverage eligibility is also impacted. Our attempt to provide access to quality, affordable health care to GAs may actually hurt them in the end. The Advisory Council was very concerned about this new piece of information and its potential impact on the GAs. In light of this information, the issue of whether we should be offering any coverage to GAs will be discussed over the summer as we look at options for 2015.

Resolved, that the Academic Senate recommends the University reconsider the disproportionate increase seen in 2014 for coverage for employees (and employee families) where both spouses are UD benefit eligible.

Recap: In 2013, where both spouses were UD-benefit eligible and selected Core coverage, they paid no premiums for employee/spouse or family coverage. For Advantage coverage, they paid half of the premium for those categories.

Uncollected premiums due to discount in 2013 = $267,000

The fact that a couple works at UD does not save the University money on health care premiums in a self-insured environment. Examples for clarity:

Under a fully-insured plan, UD was spending, say, $1000 per month per employee to the insurance carrier to support the family health care. It made some sense, when both spouses worked here, for UD to provide $1000 to one spouse and $1000 to the other spouse for the coverage. That is why it was "free." Both spouses got credit for the dollars that UD would spend to insure the family.

In a self-insured environment, UD does NOT spend $1000 per employee to an insurance carrier. UD spends zero for "insurance" and pays claims as they are submitted to Anthem. So my family might cost UD nothing, while another family might cost UD $10,000 for the year. In order to be enrolled in the plan, each family pays the $111 per month. It makes no sense, in a self-insured environment, to give any family free health care. Each family, under the CORE plan, must pay $111 in order to be insured.

• In 2014: 80 active couples, 23 retiree couples. Rates are now the same as for other employees: one employee pays premium for employee/spouse or family with no discount. There was no loss of coverage for any employee.

• UD is only employer/university found that offered this benefit.

• The Advisory Council does not support providing discounted health care premiums for couples when they are both UD-benefit eligible, primarily because of issues of fairness and equity for all other faculty and staff.

  • 54 courses designed and submitted by faculty have been approved as of 4/23/14
  • Faculty developing courses and faculty reviewing them on the CAPC committee are learning from each other.
  • The faculty proposing courses have continued to assist the committee in learning how to streamline the review process through conversation and in some cases repeated submission of courses for review.

Educational Leadership Council
Report on activities 2013/14

The Educational Leadership Council (ELC) was re-established in Fall 2013. The composition of the ELC was changed from the previous body. The members include: President; Provost; Vice President for Finance and Administrative Services; members of ECAS; chairs of the standing committees of the Academic Senate; president and vice-president of the Student Government Association; and additional administrators whose units are relevant to the topic of discussion.

Four meetings of the ELC were held: November 4, February 18, March 18, and April 16. The initial meeting was used to discuss the general purpose and role of the ELC. One of those primary roles was to provide a path for consultation between the upper administration and the faculty. It was expressed by the faculty members that in order for true consultation and productive dialogue to take place, materials related to the topic or question for discussion would need to be provided in advance.

Subsequent meetings focused more specifically on issues or questions rather than process. The February 18 meeting included presentations on enrollment and budget planning. This was used as a preparation for later meetings, laying the foundation for subsequent discussions.

The meeting of March 18 focused on facilities; Beth Keyes, Vice President for Facilities Management, attended. Questions were raised regarding the decision-making processes used when renovations were performed. There was a great deal of discussion regarding the importance of consultation with end-users of a space. The discussion on facilities continued in the April 16 meeting with a focus on larger projects that were planned for summer 2014 and beyond. It was pointed out that as the campus grows, time between classes has not. Students are having difficulty getting to and from classes in the CPC and other parts of campus in a timely fashion. Due to pressures to get to class on time, jaywalking on Brown Street has also increased. This safety issue was raised. Re-evaluation of time provided between classes was suggested as topic for future conversation.

The April 16 meeting also included a discussion of the current enrollment for Fall 2014 and factors that impact both the goal and progress toward that goal. At the current time, enrollment numbers appear strong; it is likely that enrollment goals will be met for Fall 2014. However, with changes in demographics, the number of applications required to achieve the enrollment goal has increased significantly. Future conversations regarding the strategic plan of the University should also consider ways to address this pressure. It was anticipated that results of a recent SWOT analysis conducted with the members President’s Council would be available for discussion; however, the executive summary provided to the President earlier that day was not as rich as had been anticipated. Discussion of this report will be held at a later ELC meeting.

Respectfully submitted by C. Phelps
