To See As God Sees

*"I see the moon
The moon sees me
God bless the moon
And God bless me."*

I first encountered this simple prayer in a book that I received as a gift for my First Communion. The simplicity of this little prayer rings in my head and heart each time I see the moon. While as a child, I might look into darkness and fear the night; God sees the moon and sends its light to bless and guide me. Both the prayer and the readings today are powerful reminders that God sees all and often God sees differently than I see. Take the readings of the day, for instance:

*I see a simple day laborer. God sees wisdom in waiting.
I see inexperience. God sees potential.
I see others' sinfulness. God sees their woundedness.
I see mud. God sees an agent for cleansing.*

This makes me wonder about how I see the world versus how God sees.

I see hard choices and tough discernment.

God sees opportunity.

I see a world torn apart by division.

God sees common ground waiting to be found.

I see lies. God sees truths that need to be told.

Take a moment each day this week to ask yourself these two questions:

What did I see today? What does God see?

Featured Marianist Mission

Another recipient of money collected for Marianists abroad this Lent will be Marianist Sisters' Health Clinics in Kpatchile, Togo, West Africa and Singhpur, Jharkhand, India.
