UD In the News July 1-15

During the the first two weeks of July, outcomes of the University of Dayton fixed net-price tuition plan drew national attention and our experts talked about heaven, Mary Gardens and chauffeurs, among other topics.

Significant news coverage included an in-depth story about the outcomes of the fixed net-price tuition plan in The Chronicle of Higher Education, a leading national higher education news outlet. The ABA Journal, a national news source for the legal community, wrote about a new School of Law graduate program, and Biofuels Digest carried a story about the Research Institute's work on algae.

Highlights for the first half of July are below, and you can click here to view links to all of the University's media coverage for the month.
