DAYTON, O. -- The annual Honor Award of the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association at the University of Dayton this year went to Cadet Lieutenant C. Ronald Knapp of Hamilton, O. An engineering senior, Knapp was presented the award at the annual President's Review on the campus parade.

Making the presentation in behalf of the AFCEA was a member of its board, Colonel Edward McKaba, chief of the communications and reconnaissance division, Directorate of Equipment and Services, Air Materiel Command aeronautical systems center, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

Sponsored each year by the AFCEA, the honor award (a medal and citation) goes to the electrical engineering senior in the Reserve Officers Training Corps student brigade who has demonstrated outstanding leadership qualities in both military and other university projects.

Knapp, a 1954 graduate of Hamilton Catholic high school, will be commissioned into the Army Reserve, Signal Corps, next January.

He was nominated for the AFCEA award by the dean of the university's college of engineering. His nomination was confirmed by the professor of military science and tactics, Colonel J. O. Gerot, USA.
