THE MARIAN LIBRARY

INTERNATIONAL MARIAN RESEARCH INSTITUTE

Father Théodore Koehler was the distinguished director of The Marian Library from 1969 through 1987. During that time he founded the International Marian Research Institute (IMRI).

The Marian Library is the world's largest and most comprehensive collection of printed materials on Mary, the Mother of God and of all the Faithful. Its dual purpose is to further research and to promote well-founded devotion to Mary. Established in 1943, The Marian Library now holds over 80,000 books and pamphlets in some 50 languages, ranging from the 15th century to the present. Its resources include a variety of materials, such as periodicals, clippings, and attractive collections of Marian art, stamps and medals. Supplementing these is a general reference library comprising standard theological works from patristic writings to contemporary authors. The Marian Library publishes Marian Library Studies, a periodical of international and scholarly character.

It is to Fr. Théodore Koehler's merit that the wealth of The Marian Library was made available to students in a regular academic program. In 1975, he founded IMRI to facilitate and encourage Marian studies in the United States and abroad. IMRI is affiliated with the Roman Pontifical Theological Faculty Marianum.

Since its approval by the Sacred Congregation for Catholic Education, IMRI enables students to prepare for the licentiate (S.T.L.) and the doctorate of sacred theology (S.T.D.) with specialization in mariology, to earn a certificate in Marian Studies or to work toward a master's degree in religious studies with specialization in mariology from the Department of Religious Studies at the University of Dayton, offered in a joint program. IMRI also offers a program of Guided Studies.

The International Marian Research Institute is one of the world's few centers for mariological studies. It is also involved in the promotion of interdisciplinary studies, continued scholarly research, and religious art.
