Three Years of Jazz Performances at the University of Dayton's Annual Spring Week

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls

Recommended Citation

"Three Years of Jazz Performances at the University of Dayton's Annual Spring Week" (1960). News Releases. 273.
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls/273
The appearance on Wednesday, May 18, on the University of Dayton campus of The Hi-Lo's! and the Dave Brubeck Quartet marks the third in a list of top-flight jazz groups the University student council has brought to the campus during the three years of its annual spring week program.

In 1958, to start the jazz portion of springweek, The Crew-Cuts appeared. The response was so enthusiastic both on the part of the students and the public, that last year, the council hired Stan Kenton and his orchestra, felt by many to be "The" jazz group.

But the Hi-Lo's! and Brubeck's group take a back seat (or would "play second fiddle" be more appropriate?) to no jazz groups. The college set has always held Brubeck in high regard and both he and the Hi-Lo's! have been voted at the top or near the top on almost every recognized jazz poll.

Spring week at the University also includes cultural, social, and athletic events, in addition to the jazz festival. The week will be May 15-21.