It'll be a big week starting tomorrow (Sunday) at the University of Dayton as third annual spring week festivities get under way on the campus.

Started by the student council in 1958 as a program to hold up student spirit during the long, long days from Easter till (gasp!) final exams.

Here's the line-up the students will be living by during the week -- after classes, that is:

Sunday -- School picnic at Triangle Park, sponsored by the sophomore class.

Monday -- Concert Under the Stars, on the library lawn, featuring high school musicians from Oakwood, Fairmont, Fairview, Colonel White, and Chaminade high schools. The 8:15 p.m. concert, open to the public, is sponsored by the Illini Club. (In case of rain, the concert will be moved into the fieldhouse.)

Tuesday -- Baseball game: UD vs. Central State.

Wednesday -- Activities assembly in the fieldhouse at 1 p.m. during which students will be cited for taking part in extra-curricular programs on the campus. At 2 p.m., a track and field meet will be held in the stadium. At 8 p.m., the jazz festival, with the Hi-Lo's and the Dave Brubeck quartet, will be held in the fieldhouse.

Nothing is scheduled for Thursday, giving the students an opportunity to recuperate after the Wednesday track and field meet and jazz concert.

Friday -- Senior prom, at Wampler's Ball-arena. A formal dance with Karl Taylor's orchestra, it is open to the public.

Saturday -- Beatnik party in the old gym at 8 p.m.

Sunday (May 22) -- School picnic at Triangle Park.

After spring week, the students will have one more week to get set for the climax of the semester (gasp!) final exams. The semester will end Jun. 4 with graduation.
