DAYTON, -- "Mary in the Parish" will be the theme of the seventh annual Marian Institute scheduled at the University of Dayton's Marian Library June 12-13.

The Institute, a highlight of which will be presentation of the annual Marian Library Medal, will feature two keynote addresses. Father Joseph V. Urbain of Loveland, O., well known promoter of liturgical life in the parish and home, will speak on "What the Parish Does for You." Mrs. Mark Theissen of Covington, Ky., national president of the National Council of Catholic Women, will speak on "What the Parish Can do For You."

About 300 persons from many parts of the midwest area are expected. The institute annually provides the opportunity to examine and discuss some facet of Mariology. This year's theme takes Mary as inspiration, example and model of the parish worker.

The annual medal of the library will go to the author of the outstanding book in English on the subject of Mary, published in 1958. It will be announced at the opening session on Friday, June 12.
