The Dance

from Lyrics of Love and Laughter

Paul Laurence Dunbar (1872-1906)

Gary Bachlund

Copyright © 2012 Gary Bachlund     All international rights reserved.     www.bachlund.org Back to back, turn to your place again; never let light-ness nor nim-ble-ness lack, ei-ther in mai-dens or men. Time hast-eth e-ver, be-ware of its flight, Oh, what a game for a win-ter's night! ______ Dance... ______ Slow-er now. ______ Slow-er now.

The Dance

Sof-ter the mu-sic sighs: ______ look. ______

there are beads on your part-ner's brow ______ though there be light in her eyes. Lead her a-way and her grace re- quite, so goes the game for a win- ter's ______ night.

Allegretto

circa 2' 25"