Putting the STUDENT in Student-Athlete

06.10.2010 | Students, Athletics

Eight University of Dayton athletics teams rank in the top 12 percent of teams in their respective sports for graduating student-athletes, according to the 2010 NCAA Academic Progress Rate report (url: <http://web1.ncaa.org/maps/aprRelease.jsp>).

Women's basketball and men's and women's golf have the top APR scores in their respective conferences. Men's basketball and football have the second-best scores in their conferences. Women's soccer and indoor and outdoor track round out the list.

Each Division I sports team calculates its APR each academic year, based on the eligibility and retention of each scholarship student-athlete. Teams scoring below 925 out of 1,000 can face penalties, such as scholarship losses and restrictions on practice and competition. Rates are based on the past four years' performance.
