Institutional Racism in Dayton

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/stander_posters

Recommended Citation

https://ecommons.udayton.edu/stander_posters/1200

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Stander Symposium at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Stander Symposium Posters by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact frice1@udayton.edu, mschlangen1@udayton.edu.
Institutional Racism in Dayton, Ohio
KenniKeyona Graham
Dr. Danielle Rhubart

Institutional Racism:
Institutional Racism is not just a cultural belief, it is when structures of society (example: policies, programs, and systems) systematically favor one group while disenfranchising another and is based solely on the color of one’s skin.

Causes:
- Redlining
- Systemic Prejudice
- Political Parties
- Police Brutality
- Education System
- Discrimination

Effects:
- Segregation in Neighborhoods
- Black Community issues are not dealt with until whole city sees it
- No political representation until Obama
- Race Wars and Increased Violence
- Glass Ceiling Effect/Racism
- Unjust mistreatment and harassment

Solution:
To end the systematic bias of minorities and bring social change to disproportionately end the target of people of color.

Facing Project Narratives:
Jackie Patterson: Stresses the importance of political involvement as a black conservative who does not support Trump’s actions.
Linda Burks: Examines increase in police violence as West Dayton becomes more segregated.
Steve Ross: Edgemont’s community change in which schools are losing hope in the system.

M. Alexander’s Theoretical Perspective - Why does institutional racism occur?
To perpetuate and recreate systems of oppression/racial castes.

Reference List:
Team, Grad. “How to End Institutional Racism.” Contexts How to End Institutional Racism Comments, contexts.org/blog/how-to-end-institutional-racism/.
Facing Project Narratives