A Global Perspective

04.23.2008 | International, Campus and Community

The Hindu, one of the largest newspapers in India, highlighted the University of Dayton in an April 21, 2008 story as a leader in educating students for cultural competency in an increasingly interdependent and interconnected world.

Reporter Meera Srinivasan interviewed UD President Daniel J. Curran about the University's work to integrate international and cultural awareness into the curriculum.

Srinivasan visited the campus in March for the University of Dayton's RISE VIII Global Student Investment forum and has written several stories about the forum and the experience of two Indian business students who attended.
