DAYTON, Ohio, May 25, 1967 --- Two Chaminade students and a Belmont High School coed are the first recipients of the University of Dayton School of Education Kettering Scholarships for Prospective Teachers. These $1,000 scholarships are awarded through a $75,000 grant presented to the School of Education last June by the Kettering Fund "to assist the School in its continuing effort to improve the quality and preparation of teachers."

The three students chosen to receive this year's scholarships are: Alex Tuss, son of Mr. & Mrs. Alex G. Tuss of 314 Winterset Drive, Englewood, who will major in Secondary Education; Donald Sauer, son of Mrs. Georgia Sauer of 26 N. Quentin Street, East End, who will pursue his studies in Elementary Education; and Rebecca Newcomb, daughter of Mrs. Jean Newcomb of 1412 Balsam Drive, who will major in Physical Education.

These scholarships were offered to high school graduates in the Montgomery-Greene county vicinity who show high promise and seek to become teachers and leaders in education. Area high school principals were asked to nominate three of their students who showed interest in a career in education, specifically in the fields of elementary, secondary and physical education. Selection of winners was made by the respective chairmen of these individual departments of the School of Education on the basis of interviews conducted with each of the nominees.

The scholarships are intended for the freshman year only, but, according to Brother Joseph Panzer, S.M., Dean of the School of Education, "Scholarship winners should have little difficulty in obtaining further financial assistance in the form of scholarships, N.D.E.A. loans, work-study grants, etc., through the University Student Aid Office."

The $15,000 set aside for the scholarship fund from the original grant will allow the University to award three such scholarships for four additional years.
