DAYTON, Ohio, May 29, 1967 --- The University of Dayton has announced the staff and participants for its second NDEA Institute in Spanish to be held at the University from June 26 to August 11, 1967.

Director of the Institute is Dr. James Ferrigno, Chairman of the UD Department of Languages. His staff of specialists include Dr. Oswaldo Arana, a native of Peru, who will act as Coordinator of Composition and Conversation and Alice Arana, in charge of Demonstration Methods. Both are on the faculty of California State College at Fullerton, California. Specializing in Hispanic American Culture is Dr. Eugenio Chang-Rodrigues of Peru who teaches at Queens College of the City University of New York. Professor Ben DeSalvo, Instructor at Hall High School in West Hartford, Connecticut, will head the Language Laboratory and Professor Esteban Egea, a native of Columbia who teaches at Harvard University, is the specialist for Applied Linguistics.

Three faculty members from the University of Dayton who are natives of Spanish-speaking countries will also be on the Institute staff. They are Professor Maria Castello of Spain, Professor Carlos Galeano of Columbia and Professor Mario Saquel of Chile. Mrs. Eugenio Chang-Rodriquez of Cuba will be one of the visiting instructors.

The Institute will also have native informants who will live in the dormitories with the participants to aid them with their studies. They will also help with communication since nothing but Spanish will be spoken by the staff and participants, even during free time. The native informants are Miss Francisca I. Alonso (Cuba), instructor at Cullman High School, Cullman, Alabama; Mr. Rafael C. Papa (Philippine Islands), instructor at the Glastonbury Public Schools, Glastonbury, Connecticut; Miss Laura M. Rodriguez (Costa Rica) of the State University of Iowa; Mr. Orlando Rodriguez (Cuba) of the University of New Hampshire; and, Mr. Robert Rojas (Costa Rica) of the University of Kansas.

This year's Institute drew 290 applicants from around the country and from overseas as compared to the 186 who applied last year. Forty-five applicants from sixteen states and one who teaches for the U.S. government abroad were chosen to participate.

One Dayton resident, Mr. John F. Goodwin of 1965 Riverside Drive, will attend the Institute. Other Ohio participants are: Sr. M. Peter Brady, Cleveland; Mrs. Alice Dinicola, Brookville; Mr. John F. Fellhauer, Toledo; Miss Frances Hutchinson, Washington Court House; Mr. James R. Jameson, Akron; Mr. William T. McCormick, Canton; Marilyn Pitzer, Killbuck; Miss Cynthia D. Shull, Marysville; Mrs. Carolyn J. Stair, Caldwell; Mr. Michael T. Vidas, Cincinnati; and Mrs. Madalyn J. Youngbird, Upper Sandusky. Also from the tri-state area are Mr. Gerald E. Clay of Covington, Kentucky, and Mrs. Rita J. Droll, Evansville, Indiana.

Other states drawing a large number of participants were New York and Illinois with five each, Pennsylvania with four and three from both West Virginia and New Jersey.
