DAYTON, Ohio, February 7, 1968 --- Two programs, one concerning Easter and the Passover and the other featuring a noted lecturer on philosophy and theology, will open the 1968 winter-spring season for the Religion in Life Series at the University of Dayton.

The theme, "Exodus," has been selected for a four-day program running from February 26 to March 18 at the Beth Abraham Synagogue. Three lectures and a Jewish Seder meal will highlight this Tract II program. Rabbi Jack Riemer of Beth Abraham will present the first two lectures entitled "Exodus—and Hebrew Passover" on February 26 and March 4. The Seder meal, prepared by the Jewish women of Beth Abraham and assisted by other women in the program, will be held on March 12, starting at 6:15 p.m. The third lecture will follow on March 18 with Rev. Lawrence Breslin of St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church and Rev. Paul Masquelier of Southminster Presbyterian Church discussing "Exodus—and Christian Easter." All lectures will start at 8 p.m. in Beth Abraham.

Dr. Michael Novak, noted Professor of Religious Studies at Stanford University, will appear on the lecture platform as the first program in Tract I. He will discuss "The Laymen and Dissent--The Open Church," on Thursday, March 28, in the Ballroom of the Kennedy Union at 7:15 p.m. Dr. Novak is a noted lecturer and author on the changing philosophy and theology, particularly in the Catholic Church.

In speaking of the Tract II offering, Miss Gloria Anticoli, coordinator of the "Exodus" program, says: "'Exodus' was chosen as the theme for our program because of its centrality and importance to the understanding of the religious feasts, the Jewish Passover and Christian Easter. Seeing these two holy days in mutual relationship will bring into focus those religious ideas which unite and differentiate Judaism and Christianity."

The entire Tract II program is under the joint sponsorship of the University of Dayton's Religion in Life Series, Church Federation of Greater Dayton, Greek Orthodox Church, Dayton Catholic Deanery, Ecumenical Committee of the Miami Presbytery and the Catholic Interracial Council.

A charge of $5.00 will be made for the three lectures by Rabbi Riemer, Father Breslin and Rev. Masquelier, and the Seder meal. Singly the lectures will cost $1.00 and the Seder meal $2.75. Miss Anticoli can be contacted at 277-2264.
