DAYTON, Ohio, May 10, 1968 --- A brief seminar, "The Case of the Unwilling Client," will be conducted Tuesday, May 14, room 222 of the Kennedy Memorial Union at the University of Dayton. The program, which starts at 4 p.m. and runs to 5:30 p.m., is co-sponsored by the Dayton Bar Association, Montgomery County Department of Public Welfare and the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at the University.

Among the topics will be "Legal and Policy Framework Governing Client Eligibility for Welfare Assistance," "Legal Services Available to the Indigent Clients and the Agencies That Serve Them," "Legal Service," and "Legal Aid Society."

Moderator will be Mrs. Hilda Curran of the Academy of Certified Social Workers; Mrs. Mary Haines of the Department of Public Welfare; William A. Clark, Chairman, Volunteer Service Administration Committee; and Mr. Milton Sprowl, local attorney and member of the Board of Trustees of the Legal Aid Society.

The program is aimed toward lawyers and social workers and reservations are being accepted by the Dayton Bar Association, 502 American Building, Dayton.
