DAYTON, Ohio, May 22, 1968 --- Seven University of Dayton professors will be serving as teachers and consultants and studying in foreign countries this coming June, July and August. They are going to these countries under the sponsorship of the University of Dayton, U.S. Office of Education, National Science Foundation, Graduate School at Harvard University, India government, M.I.T., and the Hebrew Union College.

Dr. Philip S. Sha, who has served in the University's last two Summer History Institutes, will go to Taipei, Taiwan, Republic of China, in June for a faculty seminar on Taiwan. The eight-weeks' seminar through June, July and August is entitled "Cultural and Intellectual Dimensions of the Development of Modern China." It is funded through the Regional Council of International Education.

Dr. Sha is a native of China having come to this country 20 years ago.

Rev. Cyril Middendorf, University Chaplain, is leaving this week for a 12-week stay in Europe. He is visiting West Germany, Switzerland, France, Belgium and Holland on an independent study, sponsored by UD. He hopes to accomplish three things. He will examine chaplain programs in European universities, examine the possibility of establishing a credit course for U.D. honor students in Theology to travel in the summer of 1969, and study the possibilities of authoring a book for Pflaum Publishing on a comparative study of student attitudes on the continent and in the United States.

Robert Mitchell, Chairman, Industrial Engineering Department, and Victor Rooney of the Electronic Engineering Technology Department, left for India this week for special educational consultant programs. Mr. Mitchell, who is spending his third summer in India, is serving as an engineering consultant to Indian universities, principally in the Delhi, India, area. Mr. Rooney is serving as a consultant in the Science Education Program for India at Allahabad Polytechnic at Allahabad, India. His trip is funded through the IDEA and NSF federal programs, the University of Dayton and the India government. He served in the same capacity last summer.

Rev. William Cole of the Theology Department and Marian Library will spend 12 weeks in Jerusalem on a program, "Studies in Near Eastern Civilization," at the Hebrew Union College Biblical and Archeological School in Jerusalem. The program will run from June 22 to August 17 and consists of a study of the bible and literature of the Near East, and special travel through the Holy Land. He will complete his trip with a visit to Greece.

Dr. Subhash Jain, who has a year's leave of absence from the Marketing Department, is currently attending a seminar, "Business Problems in Underdeveloped Countries," at the Graduate School of Harvard University. The program moves to the European Association of Management Training Center in Brussels, Belgium next month where Dr. Jain will be one of the instructors.

At the conclusion of the present program in June, Dr. Jain will join a special faculty team from MIT, Columbia and the University of Dayton for a year's study in India. The team, which is funded by MIT, will study marketing problems in India. Dr. Jain will return to UD in the summer of 1969.

Mr. Carroll Treacy of the Languages Department will spend some time in France on a research project concerning the methods of teaching French in American universities. He will spend his study time at the Institut de Touraine. The program is supported by the U.S. Office of Education, under the Fulbright-Hayes Act.
