

9-9-1968

Former Drug Addict and Prostitute to Speak at the University of Dayton

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls

Recommended Citation

"Former Drug Addict and Prostitute to Speak at the University of Dayton" (1968). News Releases. 3378.
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls/3378

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marketing and Communications at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in News Releases by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact frice1@udayton.edu, mschlangen1@udayton.edu.

DAYTON, Ohio, September 9, 1968 --- Florrie Fisher tells it like it was and why you shouldn't take her path to near destruction. Miss Fisher is a former drug addict and prostitute who, after much battling with herself, has broken these practices and has been touring the country speaking frankly of her experiences. She will speak this Wednesday, September 11, at the University of Dayton's Kennedy Union Ballroom, 12:30 p.m.

The program is under the sponsorship of the Union Activities Organization.

Not one to pull punches, Miss Fisher, speaks frankly of her $185-a-day dope habit which forced her into prostitution with "any man who came along." She speaks of her degradation over a period of years and her eventual escape at 46 years of age.

She speaks of Synanon, the organization which finally cured her of these problems which served as a monkey on her back.

About her tour, she says: "If I talk to a thousand kids, and save one of them, it's worthwhile. Let me save one girl from being another Florrie Fisher with her youth in the sewer and it will be worthwhile."