DAYTON, Ohio, April 16, 1969 --- The University of Dayton Department of Counselor Education will offer three Graduate Workshops for Elementary School Personnel this summer: Elementary School Guidance, Elementary School Counseling, and Creativity in the Elementary School. UD is a Catholic university run by the Society of Mary.

Elementary School Guidance will be conducted from June 23 to July 3 under the direction of Dr. Thomas C. Campanelle, Professor of Counselor Education at UD. This workshop will include a study of the most important concepts and techniques of guidance with emphasis on the functions and responsibilities of the elementary teacher, counselor and principal. Sister Charlotte Marie, coordinator of Guidance for schools of Fort Wayne - South Bend Division Guidance Council will act as Assistant Director.

The staff for the Guidance Workshop will include: Dr. John J. Pietrofesa, Assistant Professor of Educational Guidance and Counseling, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan, who will speak on "Guidance Essentials and Non-Essentials"; Mr. Thomas Warner, Coordinator of Elementary School Guidance, State of Ohio, who will lecture on "Guidance: Teacher-Centered Instruments; Gathering of Information; Synthesis and Interpretation." Sister Francis Joseph, O.S.F., Director of Curriculum Material Center, UD, who will discuss "Role Playing"; Mr. James Morgan, Director of Physical Education, Dayton Public Schools, who will speak on "Guidance: Body Management in the Elementary School".

Mr. Alfred Scarberry, Director of Guidance, Tipp City Exempted Village Schools, who will talk on "Psychotherapy with Children" and Mr. James O. Johnson Director of Instruction, West Carrollton City School District, who will speak on "The Counselor in the Changing World: The Search for Identity Through Occupational Goals." Each of these lectures will be followed by seminars and audio visuals materials relative to the presentations.

The second workshop, Elementary School Counseling, will be held from July 7-18, also under the direction of Dr. Thomas C. Campanelle and Sister Charlotte Marie. The focus of this program will be on counseling techniques which the principal, the guidance specialist and the classroom teacher can use in order to meet the spiritual, psychological, and social needs of elementary school children.

Authorities in elementary school counseling will serve as lecturers and consultants. These include: Dr. Eugene K. Moulin, Chairman, Department of Counselor Education, UD, on "Group Psychotherapy with Children"; Sister Ferrance, Director of Novices, Immaculate Convent Educational Center, Bartlett, Illinois, on "Counseling: Emotional Problems in the Classroom"; Miss Ann C. Wonzer, Instructor of Educational Psychology, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, on "Counseling for Specific Learning Disabilities"; and "How to Reach Low Ability Children in the Classroom"; Dr. Robert Higgins, Chairman, Department of Guidance and Counselor Education, University of Toledo, on "Counseling: Behavior Modification in the Classroom" and Dr. Joseph J. Quaranta, Associate Professor of Counselor Education, The Ohio State University, on "Motivation for Learning through Counseling."

Creativity in the Elementary School is the third summer workshop which will be held from July 21 to August 1. Sister Dorothy Mendel, R.S.M., Ph.D. Professor of Education and Psychology, Maria College and Supervisor of Schools for the sisters of Mercy, will act as Director. With the assistance of a competent Workshop staff, participants will explore the nature of creativity and how it can be identified, nurtured and developed in general, as well as in the various subject matter areas. Graduate credit earned during the Workshops may be applied to the Master of Science in Education degree within the Department of Counselor Education.

The purpose of the Department of Counselor Education is to prepare elementary school counselors, secondary school counselors, school psychologists, directors of pupil personnel services, guidance supervisors for state, county and local systems, and counselors for employment and other agency settings.

Courses offered by the Department, as well as selected courses in the behavioral and social science and other related disciplines lead to Provisional Certification in School Counseling and School Psychology by the State of Ohio and other States.

Departmental courses cover the areas of Counseling, Personality, Vocational Theories, Principles and Techniques of Guidance, Individual and Group Counseling, Psychometrics, Individual Personality Evaluation, Education and Occupational Information, Use of Community Resources in Guidance, Test Administration and Interpretation, Organization, Administration and Program Development of Guidance Services, Research Methodology and Statistics.

The Department has full control of a suite of cubicles for supervised practice in counseling. These cubicles are equipped with one-way vision mirrors and sound recording instruments. Video taping is also utilized in a particularly imaginative approach in the counseling practicum.

In addition to the Workshops the University of Dayton's School of Education will offer approximately 40 graduate level courses, open to special as well as degree seeking students during the summer session - June 22-July 31. Programs leading to the Master of Science in Education degree are designed primarily to meet the following three purposes:

1. Develop Master Teachers on the elementary and secondary school levels.

2. Enable certified teachers to work toward certification as school counselors, school psychologists, or educational research specialists.

3. Enable teachers with at least three years' successful teaching experience to qualify for certification as principal, or as supervisor, or as executive head.
