11-26-1969

Professor Mitchell J. Dahood, S.J., to Visit the University of Dayton

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls

Recommended Citation
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls/3573
DAYTON, Ohio, November 26, 1969 — The Department of Theological Studies at the University of Dayton will host Professor Mitchell J. Dahood, S.J., one of the world's foremost biblical scholars, December 2, 3 and 4.

Professor Dahood is a faculty member of the pontifical Biblical Institute in Rome and is currently a visiting professor at Harvard University in the Department of Near Eastern Languages and Literatures. Father Dahood's special area of interest in recent years has been in regard to the relationship of Ugaritic studies to the Old Testament.

The author of numerous articles, Father Dahood has most recently completed a three volume work on the Psalms in the Anchor Bible series.

The following is a list of Professor Dahood's speaking engagements. They are all open to the public.

December 3
9:00 A.M. United Theological Seminary
4:00 P.M. University of Dayton, Kennedy Union Room 250

December 4
8:45 A.M. Wright State University
1:30 P.M. Hamma Theological Seminary