DAYTON, Ohio, April 28, 1970 --- Dr. Thomas C. Campanelle, Professor of Education at the University of Dayton, has been elected President of the National Catholic Guidance Conference, a national organization of Guidance Counselors throughout the United States and its possessions (Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands). The group is an affiliate of the National Guidance Counselors of America.

The organization's purpose is to foster and build education of Guidance Counselors and development of vocational guidance programs in the United States. Group membership numbers more than 3,000.

Dr. Campanelle has been with the University of Dayton's School of Education since 1962. He is a frequent speaker around the United States to educational organizations, particularly those in the guidance counseling field. Besides his lecturing, Dr. Campanelle has published extensively in educational periodicals, served on evaluation teams of the Middle Atlantic States Association for the accreditation of colleges and universities.

Dr. Campanelle has degrees from St. Bonaventure and his doctorate from Fordham University. He also has taken post-doctoral at New York University, Temple University, Bucknell and Catholic University.

He has been teaching since 1937 and has held positions at Villanova University, St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia and Duquesne University. He is married and has a daughter, Mary, who is a graduate of the University of Dayton.
