DAYTON, Ohio, February 14, 1972 — Timothy Fenlon, a member of the Centerville Police Department, has been named Director of Campus Security at the University of Dayton, Miss Margaret Holland, Dean of Students, announced today. Mr. Fenlon, who was born in Miami Beach, Florida, October 29, 1945, has been doing police work and attending the University since he came to Dayton in 1965. His position comes under the Dean of Students Office.

A graduate of Brooklyn Prep, where he was all-city and all-catholic league in football and baseball, Mr. Fenlon's responsibilities in his new position are:

1. Recruit, train and develop a staff able to relate well with the University community and maintain the decor of the campus in a changing social scene; 2. Through appropriate channels, maintain liaison with administrators and organizations on and off campus as may be appropriate; 3. Develop, publish and maintain on a current basis an operating manual of procedures and applicable to safety and security;

4. Assist in development and continual updating of an emergency plan of operation; 5. Maintain liaison with law enforcement agencies; 6. Conduct or supervise the conduct of investigations, as necessary, and 7. Participate in decision-making through membership on the Student Life Council.

He is also expected to maintain external relationships with law enforcement agencies at all levels of government as may be necessary, to carry out assigned duties, with professional organizations and recognized investigative agencies, and develop internal rapport with administrators, faculty, staff, and students.

Mr. Fenlon, whose father was a U.S. Navy pilot during World War II and a member of the U.S. Coast Guard from 1945 until his retirement in 1970, attended elementary schools in San Diego, Honolulu and Bermuda. He spent his four high school years at Brooklyn Prep, graduating in 1964. As a baseball outfielder, he was offered a contract by the New York Yankees but chose college at the request of his father. He attended one semester at Fordham University but came to UD in January, 1965. He will receive a bachelor of science degree in education in August. He also has done academic work in English, Criminal Justice and Communication Arts. He has started his work toward a master's degree in Communication Arts at UD.

Mr. Fenlon has concentrated, outside the University, on his police work. He was a member of the Fairborn Police Department from 1967 through 1969 when he joined the Centerville department. During this period, he graduated from the Dayton Police Academy, attended the Police Homicide Seminar in Columbus, the Fairborn In-Service Training School, several other homicide conferences, and is a Qualified Basic Police Instructor for the State Department (Ohio) of Commerce, Peace Officers Training Council. He also has taken courses at the Bureau of Criminal Investigation at London, Ohio.

Mr. Fenlon, who begins his new position tomorrow (February 15), is married to the former Rebecca Morgan of Dayton, a Julienne High School graduate. The couple has a daughter, Corie, 16 months old.
