2-23-1972

The University of Dayton Displays Books from George Washington's Library

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls

Recommended Citation
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls/3988

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marketing and Communications at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in News Releases by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact frice1@udayton.edu, mschlangen1@udayton.edu.
DAYTON, Ohio, February 23, 1972 --- The new University of Dayton Library is displaying four books which came from George Washington's Library. Three of the books bear his signature, and the fourth has a presentation inscription written by the first President. The display is on the second floor.

The books were borrowed from a friend of the Library, and are part of a very valuable collection of rare books. The collection includes the first edition of the King James Bible, which the Library had on display over Christmas, and some original folios by William Shakespeare. Also included in the collection, which will be given to the U.D. Library at a later date are books with signatures by the authors, first edition and limited printing books.

-30-