DAYTON, Ohio, April 19, 1972 --- Twelve hundred and nineteen men and women, including ninety-nine with honors and the first doctoral student, will graduate from the University of Dayton this Sunday, April 23, when the school holds its 122nd Commencement Exercises in four separate diploma exercises. Each school and the college within the University is holding its own exercises.

In the morning ceremonies at 10 a.m., the College of Arts & Sciences will conduct its graduation in the UD Arena with Reverend Raymond A. Roesch, S.M., University President, presiding. Simultaneously, the School of Engineering, with Reverend George B. Barrett, S.M., Vice President, presiding, will hold its diploma program in the UD Fieldhouse.

The afternoon exercises include the School of Business Administration in the UD Arena and the School of Education in the UD Fieldhouse, both at 2 p.m. Father Roesch again will preside in the Arena and Father Barrett in the Fieldhouse. For the second straight year, the University will not award honorary degrees.

Division of the graduation program was decided after a two-year study by the University administration in consultation with deans, faculty and students. Separate exercises for each school was found to be the most popular and feasible method. This more personalized approach to graduation also includes the annual senior dinner which this year was held by schools and departments, depending on the decision of those involved. Special honors also were given at the individual dinners.

Highlighting the Commencement exercises will be the awarding of the first doctoral degree in the University's 122-year history. Recipient will be Dr. Edmund H. Schwartzel, who received his bachelor of science degree in biology from St. Vincent's College, Latrobe, Pennsylvania, in 1965. He was awarded a master's degree in the same academic discipline at the University of Dayton in 1968 and Sunday will receive his doctorate in biology with the College of Arts and Sciences in the 10 a.m. ceremonies in the UD Arena.

Born in Greensburgh, Pennsylvania, in 1943, Dr. Schwartzel came to Dayton in 1965 to study for his master's degree. Except for one year as a research associate at the C.F. Kettering Research Laboratories in Yellow Springs, Dr. Schwartzel has pursued his advanced education at UD. His wife, Edythe, whom he married in 1966, has worked in order for her husband to complete his studies. The couple who live at 406 West Fairview Avenue, has a son, Edmund III, born in July, 1969.

Other highlights of the graduation will be the awarding of an eighth UD diploma to a member of the Alfred Hoffman family of Columbus Grove, Ohio, in the last 12 years, the graduation of a husband and wife with honors in English and of a Danforth Fellow winner and a National Science Foundation recipient.

Alfred H. Hoffman, Jr., son of a Columbus Grove farmer, Alfred Sr., will receive a bachelor of electrical engineering degree with the School of Engineering. He is the sixth Hoffman son to receive a diploma from the University. Richard received his electrical engineering degree in 1960, Donald his bachelor's degree in 1963 and master's degree in 1968, both in psychology; Norbert his chemical engineering in 1968, Eugene his mechanical engineering in 1970 and John his associate in technology in 1969 and his bachelor in technology in 1970.

Alfred, who is graduating with second honors with a 3.218 academic average, is a graduate of Kalida High School. He also has three sisters, Kathy, Ann and Janet.

Paul and Deborah Mamerow, who met in the Albert Emanuel Library on the UD campus when they were freshmen, are the husband-wife team in English who are graduating with honors. Living at 824 East Stewart Street, Dayton, since their marriage last August, Debbie is graduating magna cum laude with a 3.747 academic average and Paul, cum laude with a 3.642 average. Paul is from Milwaukee and Debbie from Pittsburgh but they hope to go into teaching in the Dayton area.

Miss Deborah O'Brien is the Danforth Fellow, who is receiving her bachelor of science degree in biology, magna cum laude. Debbie, who will attend the Harvard Medical School to study physiology, has an accumulative average of 3.866. She is from Louisville, Kentucky.

Mr. Richard Schoen, one of four sons of Arnold Schoen of Fort Recovery who have or will attend the University of Dayton, is the recipient of the National Science Foundation Fellowship and will continue his studies in mathematics at Stanford University. Dick, who is graduating summa cum laude with a 3.903 academic average, was selected as the outstanding mathematics student in his junior and senior years and was a participant in the mathematics honors program. He also is director of Pi Mu Epsilon, the honorary mathematics fraternity.

Two of his brothers, Hal, who was captain of UD's 1962-63 basketball team, and Jim, also graduated from the UD mathematics program with honors. A fourth brother, Dan, has just been awarded a President's Scholarship to attend UD in the fall.
