DAYTON, Ohio, May 12, 1972 -- Two graduate students of the University of Dayton have been selected to receive Urban Administration Fellowships under a Ford Foundation Program administered by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration.

Mrs. Marie Dunn, from Dayton, and Mr. James Easler II, of Cleveland, were chosen from among five University of Dayton candidates to receive the Fellowship, Mr. Lyndon Abbott, Professor of Political Science at UD and Chairman of the University's Recruitment/Recommendation Committee, has announced. Both students are candidates for a master's degree in public administration at the University for the 1972-73 school year.

The program is designed to enable minority members of society to complete a Master's degree in Public or Urban Administration, and to attain responsible posts in urban public service. The students receive money from the Ford Foundation for the cost of their education and living expenses. In addition, Dean Stander, Dean of the Department for Graduate Studies and Research has announced his support of this program by contributing a tuition fellowship to one of the candidates.

UD is the only Ohio university to receive aid for this program.
