SPECIAL TO: Xenia Gazette

DAYTON, Ohio, July, 1972 --- Glenda Hope Skinner of 295 East Third Street, Xenia, Ohio, is currently attending the 12th Annual Workshop, "Business Systems and Data Processing: A Career Oriented Approach" at the University of Dayton, Dayton, Ohio.

The Workshop, offering graduate credit from UD and co-sponsored by the Department of Education, State of Ohio, is designed specifically for Business Education teachers and administrators who seek familiarization with modern data processing techniques, concepts, and equipment.

Prominent authorities from Guidance, Education, Systems, and Data Processing are conducting lectures, discussions, demonstrations, field trips, and practice sessions. Richard Brinkman, who took part in the first 1961 Workshop and who is now Superintendent of the Vocational and Technical School at Springfield, Ohio, and President of the Clark Technical College, is one of the feature speakers.

Mr. Brinkman was the developer of both institutions, which were lauded by Ohio's Governor as "two of the finest in the United States today."

The Workshop, directed by Prof. Robert Kriegbaum, Secondary Education, and Dr. Ellis Joseph, Acting Dean, School of Education, has ten participants enrolled, and is an Ohio Intensive Office Education Qualifying Workshop.
