DAYTON, Ohio, January 4, 1972 — The University of Dayton's Springfield Graduate Center at the Franklin Community School, Springfield, will reopen for the second term of the 1971-72 school year, Dr. Joseph Panzer, S.M., Dean of UD's School of Education, announced today. Dr. Panzer said that two graduate courses had been offered at the Center last semester with 40 Springfield area master's aspirants participating.

This Center and one to open in Lima, Ohio, this month are designed to bring university education to those adults desiring work on their master's degrees in education. This program, according to Dr. Panzer, is in keeping with one of the University's four major purposes; that of service to the community.

Because of the sustained interest shown in the Center's activities during the fall term, the University will offer three graduate courses this semester. Dr. Eugene K. Moulin, Chairman, Department of Counselor Education, will teach Psychology of Individual Differences (Ede 530) from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. every Monday through April; and Mr. John Geiger, Foundations of Education, will instruct Comparative Philosophies of Education (EdF 502) on Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Each course carries three credit hours. A third course, Diagnosis and Correction of Reading Difficulties (EdE 568), will be taught by Dr. Frances Daily, Department of Elementary Education, on Tuesday and Thursday from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. All courses will be conducted in the Franklin Community School. Mr. Robert J. Shoop, Director of the Franklin School is serving as Springfield liaison for the University. He can be reached at 322-5941. Registration will be held at Franklin School, Monday, January 10, from 7 p.m. - 9:30 p.m.

"We want to be of service to the Springfield area," says Dr. Panzer. "If you would like to develop a program to gain your master's degree without having to travel a distance to a college campus, a prospective graduate student can contact Mr. Shoop or the School of Education (513 229-3146) for information.

"Courses are being rotated in order to permit those students desiring a master's degree to make appropriate selections," Dr. Panzer concluded. "In the future, if a school system or group of teachers have a specific request, we would try to satisfy that request."
