1-6-1983

Market Analysts Ready for UD Visit

Follow this and additional works at: https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls

Recommended Citation
https://ecommons.udayton.edu/news_rls/4333

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Marketing and Communications at eCommons. It has been accepted for inclusion in News Releases by an authorized administrator of eCommons. For more information, please contact frice1@udayton.edu, mschlangen1@udayton.edu.
MARKET ANALYSTS READY FOR UD VISIT

DAYTON, Ohio, January 6, 1983 -- Robert J. Nurock is optimistic about the economy. Nurock, an investment consultant and panelist on Wall Street Week will be one of the keynote speakers at the UD Investments and Financial Planning Exposition on January 15 at the Dayton Convention Center. The all-day Expo will also feature Wall Street Week panelist and stock market expert, Gail M. Dudack.

Nurock believes "there are a number of things occurring in the economic and monetary background that are very positive for investors. The early part may be more bullish than is generally expected now." He sees "more reason for stocks and bond investors to be bullish than any time since the late '40s or early '50s."

Nurock, a financial advisor for more than 20 years, was educated at Pennsylvania State University and Johns Hopkins University. He has worked as a consultant and advisor for numerous investment institutions including Butcher & Singer, Inc. of Philadelphia, and Merrill Lynch of New York. A columnist and lecturer, Nurock designed the Wall Street Week Technical Market Index that is nationally recognized to forecast stock prices and trends. Currently, he is the president and market strategist of Investor's Analysis, Inc., of Paoli, Pennsylvania.

Dudack, vice-president of Pershing & Company, New York City, and vice-president of the Market Technicians Association has been involved in finance for over 12 years.
She graduated from Skidmore College and is currently a member of the Financial Women's Association of New York.

Dudack will discuss the "Stock Market Strategies and Technical Analysis Simplified" at the Expo. And Nurock in a separate presentation will focus on "The Outlook for the '80s: Is It Bull-ievable?" In addition to the presentations there will be representatives from 30 area financial institutions and investment firms available to discuss personal investments and financial planning.

The First Annual Investments and Financial Planning Exposition sponsored by the UD School of Business Administration begins at 8 a.m. and continues until 6 p.m. Advanced registration for the entire conference including the keynote addresses, workshops, and exhibitions is $20. An admission fee of $5 will be charged for those wishing only to visit the exhibits.

For press interviews with Dudack or Nurock, contact Ro Nita Hawes at University Communications, 229-3241.