BLACK FAMILY CONFERENCE
"ON THE MOVE" AT UD

DAYTON, Ohio, November 2, 1983 -- "The Black Family: On the Move in 1980's" will be the focus of the Black Family Conference to be held at the University of Dayton Kennedy Union on Saturday, November 12, from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The program is designed to explore the complexities of black family life today, emphasizing solutions to social problems and professional concerns. Participants include Mintey Whitney, president-elect of the National Association of Black Psychologists from Cincinnati, Ohio; Ronald Fletcher, oncologist from the Kettering Medical Center; Benjamin Wilson, associate professor of Black American studies at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo; and Janie Starks and Betty Toney from the National Black Child Development Institute.

This year's conference is co-sponsored by the UD Center for Afro-American Affairs, The Dayton Urban League, and the National Black Child Development Institute. Conference coordinator, Faith E. Johnson, believes that this conference "will allow educators, sociologists, psychologists, and the general public to dialogue about significant problems facing black men, women, and children today."
