DAYTON, Ohio, September 13, 1985 -- The Dayton Area Chapter of the American Red Cross is again sponsoring a mini-course designed to inform the University of Dayton community about disaster services and emergency assistance.

"Introduction to Disaster Services and Emergency Assistance to Families" will be offered as a mini-course through UD's Continuing Education program for one credit hour. Students will develop the necessary skills and knowledge needed to meet the needs of disaster victims. Disasters include any life-threatening situation such as a flood or a tornado.

Bev Clayton, chairperson on Family Services for the Dayton Area Chapter of the American Red Cross, hopes that by teaching programs at universities such as UD, Red Cross organizations will be able to add an increasing number of trained volunteers to their list of workers. "Students at UD are very service-oriented," Clayton said. "We're very excited to continue our program at UD for the second year."

Classes begin Tuesday, September 24 and continue through Tuesday, November 12. Registration is through the Registration Office in St. Mary's 113. Information regarding registration of non-UD students and times and fees can be obtained by calling the UD Office of Continuing Education at 229-2347.
