DAYTON, Ohio, September 30, 1985 -- The University of Dayton's Center for Religious Telecommunications will hold a conference on Pastoral Communications at Bergamo Center on October 11 and 12. The conference, featuring Reverend James Bacik, is part of the Center's on-going effort to assist church personnel in the use of new communications technology for religious education.

Bacik is the author of Apologetics and the Eclipse of Mystery, a study of the theology of Karl Rahner, a well-known Jesuit theologian. Bacik is a columnist for the National Catholic Reporter and has a weekly radio program, "Reflections," which airs on WSPD in Toledo.

According to Sister Frances Trampiets, "This conference will enable church personnel to reflect on the why and how of what they communicate and to consider how to convey the gospel message more effectively."

UD has recently installed a satellite downlink to enable the center to expand its continuing education programs for clergy and laity both locally and nationally.

For more information about the conference, call 229-3160.
